10 Millionth Frame A. O. Smith Production Milestone

A cake 10 feet long and four feet high, weighing 453 pounds, was the focal point of a three-day celebration this week commemorating production of the 10,000,000th automobile frame of the A. O. Smith Corporation's Granite City plant.

The plant began operation in 1954 and the five-million mark was attained in 1963.

The cake was displayed in the company cafeteria, along with the 10 millionth frame, which was painted gold for the occasion. Congratulatory signs to the employees who helped make the celebration possible also were displayed.

The sequence of events for the celebration was as follows:

On Tuesday, the cake went on display and employees were invited to enter a cake weight guessing contest. Prizes were displayed and included a camera, several radios and 17 pairs of safety shoes.

Yesterday, the 10 millionth frame went on display in the cafeteria and a cake cutting ceremony was held, with winners of the cake weight guessing contest announced.

Paul Kelly, A. O. Smith Granite City plant manager, presided over the ceremony. The first place winner announced at the ceremony was Melvin A. Struckhoff.

Today, all employees and their supervisors on all three shifts were treated to a free celebration dinner. Retired employees were invited to attend the dinner as guests of the company.

Free coffee and cake were served during the employees' break periods. A memento of the occasion, a glass letter tray inscribed with the 10 millionth frame and a congratulatory message and a first-aid kit were distributed to all employees.

"A. O. Smith's Granite City plant has come a long way since September 1954, when the first frame was produced. The plant celebrated production of its 3,000,000th frame on July 6, 1959, and on March 21, 1963, the production of its five millionth frame," officials commented.

Throughout its history, A. O. Smith has placed major emphasis on the safety of its employees. As a result, A. O. Smith and the plant have received many corporate and national awards for excellent in safety performance.

The safety record of the plant was spotlighted in June 1970 by the completion of almost 9,000,000 safe work hours, which at the time was the best safety record in the nation.

The local A. O. Smith plant employs almost 1,200 persons and is a division of A. O. Smith Corporation, headquartered in Milwaukee, Wis.

Since the turn of the century, the corporation has produced over 80,000,000 automobile passenger frames at its Granite City and Milwaukee locations, and is the largest producer of automobile and truck frames in the world.

Those representing the community who were present at the cake cutting celebration included David Partney, representing the mayor of Granite City; Mayor John E. Lee of Venice; Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison; and Bill Winter, editor of the Press-Record.

Representing A. O. Smith Automotive Division from Milwaukee were Dave Siebert, vice-president and general manager; Pete Blake, director of operations; Paul Kemp, director of manufacturing and services; and Frank Eischen, account executive.

Pressure Madison, Venice to Join Regional Secondary Treatment Plan

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Plans for development of secondary sewage treatment facilities on a regional basis that would include the cities of Madison and Venice—at a cost that may range from $21,013,000 to $34,213,000—were revealed Tuesday night by Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk in a regular meeting of the Madison City Council.

The planning on such an expensive basis would mean substantial increases in the sewage treatment rates now paid by Madison and Venice residents to the East Side Levee and Sanitary District and therefore prompts Sasyk and Mayor John E. Lee of Venice to favor pulling out of its present sewage treatment contract with the levee district and obtaining sewage treatment through the facilities operated by Granite City, the mayor told the council.

Sasyk said that he and Mayor Lee have attended two meetings with representatives of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission in which five alternative proposals have been presented for preparation of an Interim Water Quality Management Plan for the East St. Louis Study Area, which encompasses the Madison, St. Clair and Monroe County areas. Venice and Madison are included in all plans.

The proposals involving plans for secondary sewage treatment facilities combining areas now served by the Landsdowne Sewage Treatment Plant, the East St. Louis plant, and those at Cahokia, Sauget (Monroe) and Duquoin in several different arrangements which still require further study before a final determination is made, Mayor Sasyk explained.

Sasyk's presentation of the problem was given the council after council members heard a communication from the levee district canceling a previously revised rate schedule in which the levee district set higher sewage treatment rates to finance its own requirements for upgrading treatment facilities at the Landsdowne plant. Madison and Venice residents now are served by the Landsdowne facility.

The council voted to "file" the levee board notice.

"That really doesn't make any difference," the mayor said. "We (Sasyk and Lee) had planned to file court proceedings to challenge that rate increase anyway."

Mayor Sasyk then told the aldermen that the city confronted with a "serious problem" in its future compliance with state and federal water pollution control regulations and that Madison and Venice now is included in SIMAPC plans to develop the regional program for secondary sewage treatment.

The city of Madison, like the levee district which operates the Landsdowne plant, is bound by a deadline of Dec. 31, 1973, for secondary sewage treatment.

Five Different Plans

In discussing the program advanced by the metropolitan area planning commission, Mayor Sasyk quoted at length from a preliminary report by Theodore Miksel, executive director of SIMAPC, noting that five separate plans for combining the five plants of the "study area" have been proposed by the planning agency.

"The government is forcing us into secondary treatment whether we like it or not," Sasyk said. "And that's not the

Trash District Urged

A proposal that Nameoki Township officials and those of neighboring townships join to move to determine the possibility of forming a tax-based trash collection district was advanced by Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whitsell at a regular meeting of the town board Monday night.

The suggestion came after board members were told that the problem of trash collection is almost certain to prove more costly than town fund revenues can afford.

"The board was told that if refuse obtained from two sanitation firms indicated trash collections on a contract basis will cost from $1.75 to $4 per household per month, with the exact price depending upon such factors as distance, the number of homes to be serviced and the frequency of pickups."

Town Board Member Carl Macios who has been checking into the problem said local haulers told him they were not equipped to expand their present businesses, and if they did the fee could be expected to average about $3 a month for each household for a twice-weekly collection.

Others Face Problem

Whitsell said that all townships are facing the same problem of meeting demands for trash collections. Due to the state's open burning ban and the resulting accumulation of refuse materials that once were disposed of by burning. The townships also face the question as to where to dispose of the trash once it is collected, Whitsell said.

Whitsell said he feels that when a solution is found to the trash problem, strict rules will be needed, in addition to enforcement of the rules.

Raises for County Officials

The salaries of the Madison County coroner, recorder of deeds, auditor and clerk of the circuit courts would be raised from $13,500 per year to $19,000 after the Nov. 7 election under a resolution placed on first reading by the County Board Tuesday.

The proposed 40% salary boosts would affect only those elected officers whose new terms begin in December. The County Board will take final action on the new salary schedule in its Oct. 16 meeting.

Two years ago, the old board of supervisors raised the salaries of the county clerk, the sheriff, the state's attorney and the treasurer from $13,500 per year to $17,000.

Annual salaries of $19,000 were proposed at that time, but the amounts were decreased in the salary resolution shortly before the board met to approve the new pay scales.

End Collection Contract

The board Tuesday authorized the state's attorney to notify Paul Meyer of the St. Clair Securities Agency and Clair Investments that an agreement with the firms for the collection of delinquent taxes will be terminated Oct. 12.

The tax and finance committee and the auditing committee were requested to prepare a plan for the county to collect delinquent taxes without the use of an outside agency. The plan is to be presented to the board at its December meeting.

The state's attorney's office was requested to investigate the legality of allowing the Meyer firms to continue collection proceedings on those prop-

Oppose Higher Building Fees

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Efforts to trim the cost of operating the Madison County Building and Zoning Department by raising fees met with staunch resistance at the County Board meeting Tuesday.

A resolution to increase permit fees for building was held over until the next meeting due to complaints by several board members that the increases were discriminatory and would result in higher costs for building.

A resolution increasing fees for zoning hearings and zoning changes was approved by a 21 to 6 vote.

Pay for Itself

The increases were designed "to make the building and zoning department pay for itself," Board Member Alton May explained.

"Any changes or limitations would cause the department to operate in the red again," he said in response to an amendment proposed by Board Member Robert Ford to limit the permit fee for residential construction to a maximum of $100.

The total permit fees from the county for an average 1,000-square-foot house were calculated by May at $55, including inspections. This would include all building, wiring, plumbing and septic system permits as well as all inspections, he indicated.

"My amendment would set a maximum $45 above your estimate. I cannot see why you could object," Ford said. May contended that some large homes are being constructed in

Parents Warned Against Misuse of Vitamins

The Illinois Pharmaceutical Association has warned parents to take measures to guard against accidental poisoning of their children by ingestion of large quantities of vitamins. According to Roger Cain, executive director of the statewide professional organization of pharmacists, vitamin poisoning has increased among children by almost 150% over the past two years.

"Vitamin poisoning is rapidly rivaling aspirin poisoning as the number one health threat to children," Cain said. "Parents should take great care to protect their children from this hazard."

Children should never be told that vitamins are like candy," said Cain. "They should be taught that vitamins, like any other medication, are dangerous unless used properly. And above all, vitamins should always be kept out of the reach of children."

Vitamins Not Candy

According to Cain, recent developments in the marketing of children's vitamins such as candy-coated vitamins and vitamin shaped like animals or popular cartoon figures represent a threat to youngsters because a child tends to treat them as toys or candy rather than as medication.

"To play it completely safe, I'd advise parents to purchase only conventional children's vitamins, to instruct their children on the hazards of taking too many vitamins, to allow the children to take their daily vitamins only under adult supervision, and to store the vitamins in a place that is totally inaccessible to children."

Niedringhaus Worshipers to Attend Final Service in Old Church Sunday

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A mixture of sadness and joy will be experienced by members and friends of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church as they walk into the present church building at 10:15 Sunday morning for the final worship service.

The structure will be replaced with a new $318,000 edifice on the same site at 20th Street and Delmar Avenue in the heart of downtown Granite City. Target date for the opening of the new facility is set for World Wide Communion Sunday, Oct. 7, 1972.

Razing of the old building will be started by the contractor Oct. 2, but church members will begin dismantling the interior Monday.

Volunteer work crews are scheduled to remove the stained glass windows, light fixtures and carpeting each week evening, commencing at 7 p.m. and all day Saturday, Sept. 23.

The Rev. Roy L. Baugh, pastor, has invited those who were baptized or married at the church to join with the congregation in Sunday's farewell service.

Couples married in the church throughout the years may renew their wedding vows during a ceremony to be performed by the Rev. Baugh at the conclusion of the worship service.

Friends who attended the couples at their weddings also are invited to participate in the dedication ceremony, the minister said.

Prior to the final 10:15 a.m. service, photographs may be taken as keepsakes in the old sanctuary, the pastor said.

The saddest moment to many long-time church supporters perhaps may occur after worship is concluded and those in attendance are asked to join in a procession from the old sanctuary to Wesley Hall.

Each person will be invited to carry some small item, such as an altarware, a hymnal or a Bible, to its temporary home in the adjacent educational building.

Church school classes will be held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and conclude a half-hour later in time for families to attend the last service together.

Families also will take part in a potluck dinner, to be served between 11:30 a.m. and noon in Wesley Hall.

Looking to the future, the church building committee has set Sunday, Oct. 1 for ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Sanctuary. Detailed information will be announced next week.

Beginning Sunday, Sept. 24, services will be conducted each Sunday in Wesley Hall. The schedule will remain the same, the Rev. Baugh said, with worship services at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. and church school at 9:30 a.m.

The educational building will be utilized as the sanctuary during the construction period, the minister noted.

General contractor for the new church is M. H. Wolfe Construction Co. The church has engaged the Studio of Potomac, Kenosha, Wis., for coordination of the interior decorations, furnishings and related decor.

"Sunday will be a sad and happy day," the Rev. Baugh said. "Sad because it will mark the passing of a place of worship that has been hallowed through the years by the people of God."

"Happy because it will be a time of looking to the future. This day will mean that the congregation has made the decision to keep proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ on the same corner. It will be an old church where God is doing a new thing," the minister concluded.

Plan Friendship Day

St. Paul's Church of the Nazarene, 4309 Maryville Road, will hold its annual "Friendship Day," Sunday. The Harmsen Echos Quartet will entertain at 9:40 a.m. and an old-fashioned dinner will be served on the grounds after the morning services.

Madison Council Oks $304,390 Tax Levy

A 1972 tax levy of $304,390 which projects a $131,488 revenue deficit in the general corporate fund, was approved by the Madison City Council in a special meeting Monday night.

The levy is $5,014 less than the $309,404 tax levy for the 1971 year.

A tax extension of $49,250 was approved for the general fund, an amount which Mayor Mike Sasyk explained is $131,488 short of meeting budgeted expenditures. The deficiency results from a maximum general fund tax rate of 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation which will produce no more than the $49,250 under the city's existing valuations.

According to the levy measure, a total of $58,908 will be needed to meet budgeted expenditures. Of this amount, $385,200 will be provided from cash balances and anticipated revenue from other sources, including sales tax, state income tax, fines, business and liquor city's industrial park.

Tax Insufficient

This leaves a needed balance of $180,708, of which $49,250 will be provided in tax monies through the levy. The remaining $131,488 represents the deficit.

For the special accounts, the council approved a levy of $1,000 for auditing, a new item this year, and $19,700 for street and bridge purposes. The street and bridge levy last year was $20,000.

A levy of $29,550 was approved for fire protection, compared to $30,000 last year, and a like amount was levied for police protection, also $30,000 last year.

Other special account levies, with last year's figures shown in parenthesis, include: Liability insurance, $10,100 ($10,000); public improvements, $3,400 ($3,400); police pensions, $14,600 ($13,000); garbage collection, $39,400 ($40,000); public library, $18,700 ($17,700); Civil defense, $2,350 ($1,750); playgrounds and recreation, $17,730 ($18,540); Municipal retirement, $42,000 (same).

During regular council meeting Tuesday night, the aldermen approved payment of $39,111 to McClair Asphalt Co. of Collinsville for the first phase of this year's street improvement program. The bill will be paid out of motor fuel tax funds. Mayor Mike Sasyk told council members the total bill for the city's projected street improvements will reach $111,000.

Burned Boy, 9, Flown by Shriners to Burns Institute; 13 Donate Blood

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

It was a news item of modest length, written in haste to meet Monday's deadline, to find out whether blood donors and someone interested in cheering a small boy.

But repercussions from the circumstances of Anthony McCarty, the lonely little boy in an isolated room at St. Elizabeth Hospital, 9 years old, who has been hospitalized since he was severely burned in an accident of June 3, last, yesterday morning by a chartered plane for the Cincinnati (Ohio) Burns Institute, a life-restoring facility supported by the Shriners.

At the Shriners hospital he will be among other children whose bodies are being repaired by the dedicated hands of skillful surgeons and whose morale during lengthy hospital stays is cheered by contact with other children and through special visiting programs.

The abbreviated item in Monday's Press-Record, appealing for blood donors and cards to be sent to the local youngster, touched the hearts of many Granite Cityans. It was learned that among these were Sergeant First Class Rolla B. Mabry and his partner, Staff Sergeant Morris Cook, stationed at the U. S. Army recruiting office, 1206 Niedringhaus Ave.

After reading the story and returning to the Granite City Army installation, where both men live, Sgt. Mabry located volunteers from among the military personnel willing to donate 13 pints of blood.

The blood was needed to replace that used during six skin graft operations performed upon Anthony since June 3.

Assisted by Sgt. Cook and with the cooperation of First Sergeant Seymour Lockhart of the U. S. Army Adjutant General's Publication Center, St. Louis, Sgt. Mabry quickly found volunteers who reported to the hospital early Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

The two recruiters also made plans to visit Anthony at St. Elizabeth, taking him some books to cheer him.

At the purchasing department at Granite City Steel Co., already were making preparations to package a box of goodies and toys and present them to the child.

A member of the group, Mrs. Helen Green, also was planning to ask women's organizations at her church to send the boy a "sunshine box."

Cards also began arriving Tuesday at the hospital for Anthony.

Probably most important was the decision by a local physician aided by Avery Schermer, president of the Tri-City Shrine Club, to spur procedures and have the child transferred immediately to the Burns Institute.

Anthony is the son of Mrs. Ruby McCrea, 2801 Kirkpatrick Homes. He was to have entered the fourth grade this fall at Marshall School.

The youngster was accompanied to the Cincinnati hospital by his mother, Schermer, Mrs. Lily Chaboud, president of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, and Sister Mary George, supervisor of St. Elizabeth Hospital's laboratory and blood bank.

Boy Questioned in Attempted Robbery

A 15-year-old Granite City boy is being questioned by police here in connection with the beating and attempted robbery of Arthur Jones, 2803 Benton St., in Wilson Park at the sunken garden at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Jones reported he was jogging in the park when he saw three boys lying in the grass. When he passed, one of the boys struck his back, knocking him down, Jones said.

The boy threatened to strike him with a soft drink bottle and demanded his money, the victim said. When Jones started to rise, the youth kicked him and started to strike him with the bottle but another boy stopped him.

Shrine Units To Compete Here Friday

More than 25 motorcycle units of the Great Lakes Association of the Shrine Motor Corps will conduct competitive drills on the parking lot of the Nameoki Village Shopping Center beginning at noon Friday. The drill performances are expected to last about four hours.

Noble Ray F. Simmons, formerly of Granite City and director of motor units for Almad Temple of East St. Louis, will be in charge of the event in which the participating Shriners will be judged in three areas.

The riders will be inspected for personal grooming, uniforms and equipment, followed by drill competition in which each unit will be given from five to ten minutes to perform. The units will be judged on the variety of drills, execution and showmanship.

An obstacle course will then be set up. Each unit will have two riders riding between pillars of a prearranged course against the clock.

Seven classifications of vehicles will compete: antique weights, 351 to 500 cc.; heavy weights, 501 cc. and over; minibikes; scooters; and four-wheeled and trucked vehicles.

Almad Temple in East St. Louis is hosting a meeting of the Great Lakes Shrine Association Friday, Saturday and Sunday with 22 Shrine Temples from 7 states in attendance. More than 3,000 Shriners are expected to be at the ceremonial. Most of the events will be held in St. Louis.

the county which would cost more than $100 to inspect.

The proposed permit fees would be 4-cents per square foot for a shingle or aluminum siding home, 6-cents per square foot for stone or brick homes and 5-cents per square foot for homes using a combination of the two.

Several board members claimed the fee schedule was discriminatory against brick or stone homes. May said the brick or stone homes generally take longer to construct and therefore more inspection time is necessary.

J. R. Heil, board member, said contractors and builders are objecting to the new rate card and said builders indicated they might increase the price of each home as much as $500 to pay for the new permits and the time required to obtain them.

Heil suggested the resolution to raise the fees and the amendment to limit residential permit fees to $100 be held over until the next board meeting Oct. 16. The motion to carry was approved on an 18 to 9 vote.

May received authorization from the board to study the building code and establish a criterion for inspecting and approving or disapproving the placement of mobile homes and modular homes in the county. He said that all mobile homes are inspected at the factories but that many are unsafe, in his opinion, particularly electrically.

A new state law regulating noxious weed was referred to the county environmental department for enforcement.

Injuries Factor as Warriors Prepare for Opening Gridiron Game at Riverview Tomorrow

Injuries have forced the coaching staff to make major changes in the Granite City High School football Warriors' varsity ranks prior to their opening game at Riverview Gardens in St. Louis at 8 p.m. Friday.

"We had to shift Brad Weiss, a veteran tight end, to the fullback slot since both Gary Lively and John Avedisian have been hurt," Wayne Williams, head grid mentor for the Warriors, said yesterday.

Lively has had a recurrence of a knee injury and Avedisian had a swimming mishap.

"Weiss has the ability and football knowledge to switch positions two days before an opener," he added.

"We thought about moving Willie Arnold into the fullback slot but we need him in at defensive halfback."

"Moving into the starting lineup at tight end will be a sophomore, Tom Schooley. Terry Hollis, a junior, may also see some action as tight end."

"We are not looking good at all in practice and I am definitely not satisfied with their hitting. But the potential is there. We need to have everyone hit and hit hard all the time."

"If our defense does not get together we could have some real problems on the field Friday," Williams lamented, not unlike most coaches facing season openers.

Riverview Gardens, with a schol nickname of the Rams, has a student population of 2,400.

The Warriors have played them twice. In 1964, the Rams lost 13-7; but they came back in 1965 to beat Granite City 21-0.

Finishing in a tie for first place in the North Suburban League, the Rams last season had a 6-2-1 record. The Warriors were 2-2-1 in the Southwestern Conference, tied for third with Alton, with an overall record last year of 5-2-1.

Since Williams has been coaching here, the Warrior record is 18-6-1 for the past three years.

The Rams lost their starting quarterback, Greg Whitacre, who was hurt in practice and will be out of action the next few weeks.

Jimmy Paulson, the Missouri state wrestling champion last year, is a 6-0, 190-pound junior defensive left guard and the top Ram griddler, according to Ram Coach Jerry Nordman.

The Rams used a multiple offense and do a lot of old-fashioned power running.

In the offensive backfield for Riverview will be Russell Domitrovic, 6-1, 185, junior quarterback; Mike Meyer, 5-9, 183, senior right half; Kevin Brown, 6-1, 207, senior fullback; and Gary Schurriger, 5-8, 135, senior left half.

The line on offense for Riverview Gardens will be Clyde Kirby, 6-0, 170, senior center; Kevin Smith, 5-9, 170, senior right guard; Rich Stallings, 5-10, 170, senior left guard; Bob Shoulders, 6-0, 185, senior left end; Dan Schmitt, 5-9, 170, senior right end; Mark Deen, 5-10, 180, senior left tackle; and Darrell Zufawil, 5-6, 160, senior right tackle.

In the Rams defensive safety position will be Tim May, 6-1, 160, senior.

The defensive halfbacks are Mike Powers, 5-7, 160, and Ed Ehrich, 5-10, 165, both seniors. The linebackers are Steven Leonard, 6-2, 190 and Mike Burton, 5-9, 165, also seniors.

The defensive end slots will be filled by two returning seniors Steve Dager, 6-0, 195, and John Hoelscher, 5-9, 160.

Tackles are Dan Gipson 6-0, 195, senior, and Mark Laney 5-11, 195, junior.

Playing with Paulson at guard is Mark Laney 5-11, 195, junior. The first home game for the Warriors will be against O'Fallon at 8 p.m. on Sept. 22.

Assisting Williams in coaching the football Warriors are Don Miller, coaching the defensive line, Stan Wojcik, offensive line, Russell Chappell, sophomore line, and Bob Stegmeyer, sophomore backs.

Trojan Football Team Hoping to Turn Tables on Improved Central Eleven in 1972 Inaugural Friday

The Madison High School football Trojans will face the Central Red Wings on the St. Louis O'Fallon field at 4 p.m. Friday for their season opener.

Last year the Red Wings sneaked by the Trojans 14-13 for the only victory by the St. Louis team in a 1-8 season.

Under the leadership of Bob Haller in his fourth year as Red Wing mentor and with the help of eight returning lettermen, Central won its season opener last week, downing De-Andreas of St. Louis 27-6.

Madison defensive line coach Gordon Schoby, who scouted the Red Wings' opener, reports, "They have a very hard and aggressive line this year. Their passing attack seemed a little weak, but they make up for this in size and power."

Central plays a multiple-style offense, running frequently from the "I" and "T" and split "T"; it uses a 4-3 defense.

Central, with a student population of 1,200, is twice the size of Madison High.

A Red Wing running back, Charles Cooper, a 6-0, 200-pound senior, has been showing a lot of speed and probably is Central's top all-around griddler.

Another Central player, Roger Gibson, 5-11, 190, a junior center, is the leading blocker.

One of the hardest hitters in the St. Louis Public League this year appears to be Carl Jefferson, 5-7, 160, a junior cornerback.

The Central back field will include Ray Brooks, 5-9, 155, sophomore quarterback and Byron Thompson 6-0, 180, senior fullback; plus Jefferson and Cooper at right and left halfback, respectively.

Most of the Red Wings' playing "going both ways," playing no matter who has possession of the ball. On defense, the cornerback slots are filled by Riley and Jefferson; Gipson plays middle linebacker; Cooper and Thompson both fill linebacker slots; and Mosby is at right end. Anderson at right guard; Simms left guard and Pullen safety.

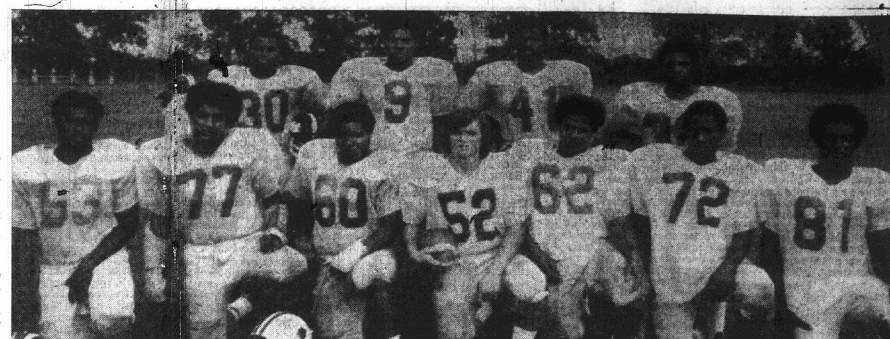

Charles Holmes, 5-10, 160-pound junior, fills the other safety position and Steve Hamilton, 6-1, 190, a sophomore, is at defensive left end.

MHS football cheerleaders this year are Pam Baker; Stephanie Clark; Cindy Coghlan; Cindy Dutko; Linda Glasper; Elver Hughes; Beth Washenko and Judy Young.

Al Vander Hair, head football coach for Madison, is assisted by Charles Stepie, Robert Drake, Emmitt Timmons and Schoby.

Ice Hockey Mothers Club Being Formed

A coffee hour was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Donna Dionea to form the Granite City Hockey Players Mothers Club.

Aim of the club is to help defray the cost of boys playing ice hockey. By earning enough money, the mothers hope to help pay for ice time and needed equipment for boys who would like to play hockey but are prevented from doing so by the cost.

The mothers also would like to start a system whereby a hockey scholarship would be awarded to a boy who could not afford to play hockey otherwise.

In attendance were Mesdames Toby Worthen, Lois Hassler, Phyllis Hodge, Carol Strawn, Shirley Rapoff, Robin Fay, Barb Harris, Nancy Pineda, Carol Friedrich, Betty Skirball and Judy Hinterser.

There will be a general meeting and election of officers Sept. 19 at the home of Mrs. Donna Dionea, 2857 Cleveland Blvd., at 8 p.m.

All mothers with boys playing hockey in the Granite City Park District are being urged to attend.

Cougars Back from Viewing Olympics, Begin Play Saturday

Coach Bob Guelker's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team will make its unofficial 1972 debut Saturday at Cougar Field in a contest with the school's alumni squad. Game time is 4:30 p.m.

Guelker, fresh from leading the United States soccer team to its first appearance in an Olympic Games' field of 16 at Munich, will field largely a veteran starting lineup. But missing for the first time in four years will be the Cougars' all-time leading scorer, John Catena.

Big John, in four seasons, scored 100 points on 71 goals and 29 assists. His deadly foot and his size (6-4 and 190 pounds) will be missed, but Guelker is hopeful that the Cougars' scoring punch will be picked up by Catena's brother, junior Chris, and freshman John Stremlau (at striker).

Other SIUE offensive threats will be Tom Twillman, Greg Modde, Bobby Kesson, Paul Gentile, Joe Gallagher, Steve Gacciato and John Barron. Gacciato (St. Louis University High), Modde (Rosary) and Stremlau (Dubourg) are all freshmen and Guelker is extremely high on them.

Defense Again Strong
The Cougars' defense which held eight opponents scoreless in SIUE's 10-2-1 season in 1971 while Guelker's charges were outshooting their foes, 479-294, will be virtually intact. Only Rich Neltzer was lost to the Cougars by graduation. Tom Howe and John Deinoski, two starting forwards, also graduated.

The SIUE veteran defense includes goalie Rich Benben, back Dennis Driscoll, center Vince Fazio, fullback Mike Boland, halfback Tom Galati, who also can play up front, and fullback Bill Renaud, senior "walk-back" Punnam and sophomore halfbacks Bill Barron and Tim Watters.

Three promising freshmen fullbacks, Steve Axmacher (McCluer), Mike Smallwood (St. Louis U. High) and Dave Pizler (Morcy), also are highly regarded by Guelker.

Helping the already strong Cougar defense will be Pat Gaffne, a fullback transfer from Florissant Valley College, the defending junior college national champion. In reserve in goal is junior Chester Kowalski, a Northeast High (St. Louis) product.

But he has three of the SIUE regulars (Joe Gallagher, Mike Boland and Kevin Howe) made the trip to Germany to take in the Olympics.

Prior to going to the games, the Cougars had played in scheduled pre-season "warm-ups." Guelker had hoped to line up at least three scrimmage-type games in Europe for his players during the games.

Three New Faces
Three new opponents have been added to SIUE's soccer schedule: Northern Illinois University, Western Illinois University and Michigan State University.

Cougar fans won't be able to see their team in a regular home game until their sixth contest. The first five will be on the road, starting Sept. 23 at Kenosha, Wis., against the U. of Wisconsin, Parkside.

The Cougars will make their home debut Tuesday, Oct. 17, against always tough University of Missouri-St. Louis. The UM-SL Rivermen kickers opened their season with a stunning 1-0 upset victory over St. Louis University last Saturday.

The 1972 SIUE soccer schedule: Sept. 16—SIUE Alumni, 1:30 p.m., at home; Sept. 23—University of Wisconsin (Parkside), 1:30 p.m., away, Kenosha, Wis.; Sept. 30—Rockhurst College, 2 p.m., away, Kansas City, Mo.

Sat., Oct. 7—University of Illinois, Chicago Circle, 1:30 p.m., away, Chicago, Ill.; Oct. 13-14—Illinois State Universities Tournament (Northern, Western, Eastern and Southern) away, DeKalb, Ill., Oct. 17—University of Missouri, St. Louis, 4:15 p.m., home.

Sat., Oct. 21—Michigan State University, 1:30 p.m., home; Sat., Oct. 28—(Homecoming), Quincy College, 1:30 p.m., home; Sup. Nov. 5—St. Louis University, 1:30 p.m., home; and Sat., Nov. 11—University of Akron, 1:30 p.m., away, Akron, Ohio.

The game with St. Louis U. may be played at St. Louis' Busch Stadium.

Soccer Warriors Win 10-0

The GCHS soccer squad opened its season on a successful note Tuesday, winning a 10-0 match with Highland-St. Paul at Wilson Park.

The Warriors last year were undefeated with 10 wins and one tie. Nine players from last year's varsity lineup were in the starting group Tuesday.

There was no scoring in the first quarter but the Warriors dominated the action. At the quarter mark, Andy Baugh stole the ball from a St. Paul halfback and dribbled to 15 yards from the goal where he kicked the first point of the game.

B-Team In
Randy Worthen scored on a cross from Dennis Jones five minutes later and Coach John Sellmeyer substituted the B-team.

"They played as well as the varsity," he said. Mark Baugh, a younger brother of Andy, passed to Dave Sheridan for a goal at 23 minutes in the first period.

The final point came when Mark Baugh kicked the ball from 40 yards four minutes later, into the goal area where Sheridan guided it into the net.

With a 4-0 lead in the first half, the Warriors started blasting at the goal and, two minutes into the second half, Carl Duke scored on a short pass from Worthen. Two minutes after that, Dennis Jones kicked 25 yards from the right side to the goal and scored. Phil Hill assisted on that shot.

Penalty Kick Good
The Warrior lead continued to grow as Harvey Breckner made a successful penalty kick at 12 minutes into the second half and Keith Gehling turned a pass from Ted Geggus into a point at 20 minutes.

Geggus later passed to Pete Muehl, who scored at 24 minutes through tight traffic. The final point came when Mark Voegel took a pass from John Harding and booted a long ball from the side; it passed over the goalie's head and into the net.

The Warriors will travel to New Trier East for a varsity match at 4 p.m. today.

New Trier East will be here at 11 a.m. Saturday for a varsity battle. The home game will be played at Wilson Park.

Cougar Harriers to Make Debut Saturday

Coach John Flamer's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville cross-country team seldom will have a home course advantage during the coming season.

Flamer's runners will make their season debut Saturday when they travel to Jefferson City, Mo., to match strides with the Lincoln University Tigers.

Flamer, who inaugurated cross country competition at SIUE five years ago, is hopeful that his runners will improve on their 1971 record of 9-8. He's also hoping the Cougars don't repeat their last season performance of posting an early 9-1 record only to end with seven straight losses.

Prominent in SIUE's hopes for a winning cross-country season are veterans Tom Terrill, Carl May, Gene Briggs, Willie Chambers, Bruce Perry and Mike Johnson, plus two transfers from the national junior college champion team in 1971, All-Americans Tim LaBrosse and Gary Baxter were members of the Vincennes Indiana Junior College team.

Outstanding freshman prospects are Bob Adair, O'Fallon; Charles Simpson, Centralia; Mark Leonard, Southeastern at Piasa; Tecumseh Holmes, Madison; Elijah Burgess, Alton; Doug Horton, Granite City; and Zachary Haywood, East St. Louis.

With a 2-7 record in 1971, the new edition of the Madison Trojans is looking for a significant improvement in its season performance as it again plays an independent schedule.

The Granite City High School football squad is beginning its 1972 play against non-league competition but again will compete in the Southwestern Conference starting with its game at Edwardsville two weeks from tomorrow night.

Warrior partisans feel that their team has a real chance at capturing the conference grid championship. But most predictions for the league, new

GC Has High Hopes in Conference This Year

The Granite City High School football squad is beginning its 1972 play against non-league competition but again will compete in the Southwestern Conference starting with its game at Edwardsville two weeks from tomorrow night.

expanded to eight schools, place GCHS third or fourth behind Belleville West and possibly Belleville East and East St. Louis.

Other entries are Alton, Collinsville, Cahokia and Edwardsville.

While Madison and Granite City are inaugurating their seasons with road games to-morrow, other action will have: Assumption at Belleville West, Alholf at Collinsville, Jefferson City at Cahokia and Wood River at Edwardsville.

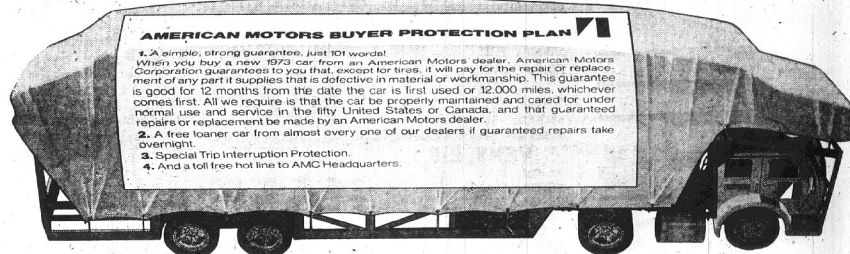

Saturday games will send Belleville East to Hazelwood, Quincy to Alton and Soldan to East St. Louis.

AMERICAN MOTORS BUYER PROTECTION PLAN

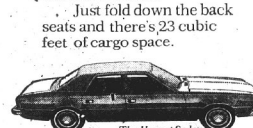

1. A simple, strong guarantee, just 101 words! When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

The American Motors Buyer Protection Plan. Only American Motors makes this promise: The Buyer Protection Plan backs every 73 car we build and we'll see that our dealers back that promise.

See our unique little fun car, Gremlin. The only little economy car with a standard six cylinder engine. It reaches turnpike speed easily. It weighs more, and has a wider track than its competition.

The Hornet Hatchback. The brand new sports car with room to travel in. Just fold down the back seats and there's 23 cubic feet of cargo space.

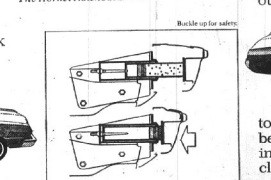

The Hornet Sedan. The good looking, easy handling, roomy compact. We built economy into the way the Hornet runs, not the way it looks.

The Hornet Sportabout. The four-door, six cylinder Sportwagon that's easy to handle, easy on gas, easy on your pocketbook and very easy to fall in love with.

The Javelin. The sleek, high performance road version of the specially modified car that has blasted all its rivals off the track by winning the Trans Am championship going away, two years in a row.

The new energy absorbing bumper system on Gremlin, Hornet, Sportabout and Javelin telescopes the front bumper as much as 3 inches and returns to normal after repeated 5 mile per hour barrier impacts. It's one of the most advanced systems in the industry.

The Matador. The intermediate car with more head room, hip room, rear seat leg room and even a bigger trunk than any car in its class.

The Luxury Ambassador. The only full-size car that comes standard with air conditioning, automatic transmission, a radio, power steering, front power disc brakes, tinted glass all around, white walls and 26 other necessities of life.

worst of it. After these millions are spent for secondary treatment, we are going to get into a third phase that will cost more millions."

Sasyk said that the rate increase announced by the levee district several months ago, at a time when the levee district was worrying only about upgrading the Lansdowne plant, would have increased the treatment rate from $1.15 per month for average household costs in Madison and Venice, to $1.33.

"The rough guess we get now is that this would go to $1.50 ($4.50 per quarter) for any one of the alternate plans now considered by the planning agency (SIMAPC)," he added.

As a result of the situation, Madison and Venice officials intend to look into the possibility of canceling out their contracts with the levee district and obtaining sewage treatment from the Granite City treatment plant at what obviously would be a benefit to the two cities, Sasyk said.

"We still have a lot of checking to do," the mayor explained, noting that "I have been told that it would be cheaper for us, as far as rates are concerned, to go along with the regional plan, even though the cost of tying in with Granite City through construction of intercepter lines, would be far cheaper than any of the construction plans proposed by SIMAPC."

Sasyk said he had been told that so far as the physical construction is concerned, Madison could build an intercepter line from its Madison lines to Granite City's treatment plant at a cost of $350,000 to $400,000.

The SIMAPC report upon which Mayor Sasyk based his discussion, said in part: "Since the main objective of interim water quality management planning is to abate point sources of water pollution, our efforts have concentrated on the five major sewage treatment facilities in the study area — Lansdowne, East St. Louis, Sauget, Cahokia and Dupu."

After a reconnaissance survey and analysis of these treatment facilities had been completed, five alternative plans were explored in order to meet the interim sewage treatment needs of the area and produce an effluent in conformity with federal and state standards. A discussion of the most salient aspects of the analysis of the alternatives follows.

Alternative No. 1 explored the cost-effectiveness of retaining all five of the existing treatment plants at their present locations and upgrading them, independently, to produce an effluent capable of meeting federal and state standards.

The estimated costs to be expended in order to implement this alternative are: $25,718,000 for new construction, $2,000,000 for annual maintenance and operation, and $2,733,000 for annual debt service calculated for "new" and undepreciated "old" capital at 6% per year for 20 years with 100% local financing.

Alternative No. 2 involved the retention of the five existing primary plants at their present locations and the construction of a new 44 mgd secondary plant at Sauget to serve Lansdowne, East St. Louis, Sauget and Cahokia. Interceptors would also be constructed from the existing primaries to the new facility.

The existing plant at Dupu, because of its distance from the proposed facility, would be upgraded independently to meet state effluent standards. The estimated costs for this alternative are: $21,013,000 in new construction, $1,115,000 for annual maintenance and operation, and $2,322,000 for annual debt service.

Alternative No. 3 would abandon the existing primary plants at Lansdowne, East St. Louis, Sauget and Cahokia and construct a new 44 mgd primary and secondary plant at Sauget. Interceptors would also be constructed to connect these service areas to this new facility.

The Dupu plant would be upgraded to meet state effluent standards independently. The estimated costs for this alternative are: $24,213,000 in new construction, $745,000 for annual maintenance and operation, and $3,447,000 for annual debt service.

Alternative No. 4 would retain the five existing primary plants at Lansdowne, East St. Louis, Sauget, Cahokia and Dupu. A new 29 mgd secondary plant would be constructed near the existing East St. Louis facility and serve the East St.

Louis and Lansdowne service areas. Interceptors would be constructed to connect these facilities.

The existing primary plants at Sauget, Cahokia and Dupu would be upgraded independently to produce an effluent to meet the state effluent standards. The estimated costs for this alternative are: $25,343,000 for new construction, $1,992,000 for annual maintenance and operation, and $2,721,000 for annual debt service.

Alternative No. 5 would retain the five existing primary plants at Lansdowne, East St. Louis, Sauget, Cahokia and Dupu. A new 32 mgd secondary plant would be constructed at East St. Louis to serve Lansdowne, East St. Louis and Cahokia. Interceptors would be constructed to connect the primary plants at Lansdowne, East St. Louis and Cahokia to the new facility.

The existing plants at Sauget and Dupu would be upgraded independently to produce an effluent in conformity with state effluent standards. The estimated costs for this alternative are: $25,543,000 for new construction, $2,033,000 for annual maintenance and operation, and $2,737,000 for annual debt service.

It should be noted that, with the exception of the Lansdowne plant which is expanding slightly, the alternatives described do not propose that increased capacity be provided at the existing treatment facilities. It is felt that the current plant capacities, with the exception of a slight increase of Lansdowne, will be adequate to meet the projected sewage treatment needs of the study area until the year 1990.

The new construction and total annual costs of all the alternatives were comparatively analyzed. Although the cost figures for all the alternatives are estimates, using currently available data and professional cost-estimating procedures, Alternative No. 2 is the most cost-effective solution for providing sewage treatment for the East St. Louis study area. It should be noted, however, that of necessity, certain assumptions were made in the development of some of the alternatives — the greatest of these being the ability to treat domestic and highly concentrated chemical wastes together by means of a biological process.

Pontoon Water District Cuts Second Water Rate

The Pontoon Beach Public Water District board of trustees announced yesterday a reduction in its second rate for water bills. Andy Bucovac, chairman of the board, said the rate cut applies to those using in excess of 2,000 gallons of water. The district's first rate of $2.75 for the first 2,000 gallons remains unchanged, he said. The second rate, formerly $1.40 for the next 3,000 gallons, was reduced to 90 cents per 1,000 gallons up to 8,000 gallons. All customers using more than the total of 10,000 covered by the two rates will pay 50 cents per 1,000 gallons.

be placed at two county parks. Lawson's Painting Co. of Edwardsville was awarded a $1,300 contract to paint the county nursing home administrator's residence. The bid was the lowest of four submitted.

A bid for the printing of 750 school directories was awarded to East 10 Printing and Publishing Co. of Wood River for $1,538. About $400 will be returned to the county through the sale of the directories at $1 each, board members were told.

Continue Employment Program
A total of $3,588 was released by the board for the Emergency Employment Program on a recommendation from the finance committee. The program is partially federally reimbursed. The purchasing committee was granted permission to award the contract for about 50 jailer uniforms for County Jail personnel to the lowest bidder when bids are opened tomorrow.

Shrine Ceremonial Hosted by Ainad Temple Begins; Competition and Parade Scheduled

St. Louis and Madison-St. Clair Counties were the arrival scene starting Wednesday when the first of more than 15,000 visitors reached here for the Shrine's Association Great Lakes "Shrine Ceremonial" annual session.

Heading the throng of more than 5,000 registered Shrine members is Past Potentate Lloyd Turnbull of Ainad Temple, who is from St. Louis. He served as potentate of Ainad in 1963, its golden anniversary. Other officers hail from Toledo, Ohio, Indianapolis, Ind., Springfield, Ill., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Cincinnati, Ohio.

Imperial Potentate Henry B. Struby, Evansville, Ind., a past potentate of Hadi Temple, also arrived Wednesday. Struby heads the more than 900,000 Shrine members of North America. He will be joined by other Imperial members of the Division.

Headquarters are at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel, with nearly all hotels and motels in this region helping to house the visitors.

A parade on Saturday starting at 9:30 a.m. will last more than 3 1/2 hours and will be led by the 22 Temples that will be here for the four-day session. Many of the units are champions and will be competing again to hold their honors.

Drum corps competition will be held during the parade itself, along with band judging.

Part of the motorcycle competition will be during the parade and the rest will be held on shopping center parking space along Nameoki Road in Granite City on Friday afternoon. A large crowd is expected.

Crowns will have their individual competition for make-up and stunts on Friday night at Elks Lodge No. 9 in St. Louis from 5 to 8 p.m., and the public is invited.

The parade route in St. Louis will follow a route used for years. It starts at 15th and Washington, turns right at Broadway, turns right at Olive, turns left at 12th, turns right at Chestnut and disbands after passing the Soldiers Memorial between 13th and 14th streets. Blood Labeling Law Aimed At Wiping Out Hepatitis

Copley News Service

Springfield—New procedures, aimed at wiping out hepatitis from blood transfusions will go into effect Oct. 1 in Illinois. Dr. Franklin Yoder, director of the state Department of Public Health, said the final details of putting the blood labeling law into effect still are being worked out, with separate meetings of the advisory committee and the Governor's Task Force scheduled.

A public hearing, to outline the new rules and regulations to anyone interested, is scheduled Sept. 18 in Springfield, he said.

The recently signed law provides that after the Oct. 1 deadline, any whole blood or plasma used in the state must be clearly and prominently labeled to show whether the blood is donated or has been purchased.

Exempted is blood for commercial purposes which will be broken down before use, Dr. Yoder said.

By and large, the public seems to understand that the move is necessary to reduce cases of purchased blood transmitting hepatitis, the health department director said, adding that some individuals and groups have indicated fear that there may not be enough donated blood available to meet Illinois needs.

60% Purchased A recent study, he said, showed that in Chicago roughly 60% of all blood used had been purchased, compared with 40% which was donated. Downtown, he said, he was unaware of any figures on the subject, but his own impressions were that more "volunteers' blood would be used, than purchased blood, in areas where the Red Cross actively worked at recruiting donors and obtaining blood from volunteers.

As soon as final operation of the plan is worked out, Dr. Yoder said, he intends to meet with key people from each state agency in an attempt to increase voluntary blood contributions among state employees. His department hopes to reach 35,000 people, he said.

Once the state program has been put in operation, Dr. Yoder added, he and Robert Johnson, director of the Illinois department of local government affairs, will contact local government units and attempt to increase voluntary blood contribution programs in those areas as well.

One objection to purchased blood has been the practice of alcoholics to raise money to support their drinking, by selling blood. Hepatitis is frequently found in such persons, and is transmitted by blood given in transfusions, "often to persons least able to combat any new, added complications."

Wheat Payments To Be Based on Actual Yield

Wheat farmers, under the agricultural Act of 1970, may have their farm program wheat yield based on actual production rather than on the basis of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee judgment. Charles C. Losch, chairman of the Madison County ASC Committee, announced.

Wheat producers who can meet the requirements must file a request with the local ASCS Office at Edwardsville by Sept. 22, he said.

Farm program yields are used to determine payment under the 1973 Set-Aside Program for Wheat. Losch noted this provision applies only to wheat, as the law does not authorize ASCS to set farm feed grain yields on proof of production.

Under the 1973 program, wheat yields must be proven for the 1969, 1970, and 1971 crop years. Generally, to prove a yield, the farm must have had an allotment and harvested an acreage of wheat in each of those years. Reliable proof of production must be furnished the ASCS Office for County Committee consideration.

Interested wheat producers may contact their local ASCS Office by the Sept. 22 date to receive consideration, Losch said.

GC Man Answers Front Door; Struck in Face

John Jennings, 2826 Grand Ave., reported at 2:38 p.m. Monday that he was struck in the face and chased to the rear of his house by a man who appeared at the front door a short time earlier. Jennings said the assailant works with him at a local plant, but could give no reason for the attack. He was advised to contact the state's attorney to file a complaint.

No Takers for Funds to Study 12-Month School

Copley News Service
Springfield — So far, more than a dozen Illinois school districts have made inquiries, but no district has actually applied for funds to pay for investigating the 12-month school year.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has signed legislation which set aside $150,000 to provide grants in aid which will, in turn, let a district hire an outside agency to make a feasibility study on operating one or more district schools on a year-round basis.

James R. Medlock, head of the school district reorganization and facilities section in the office of State School Superintendent Michael Bakalis, said his office has established eight guideline points which are to be covered by any feasibility study. They include:

1. The educational program.
2. Building and space needs.
3. Administrative and personnel costs.
4. Pupil distribution.
5. Community activities.
6. Transportation costs.
7. Transitional costs.
8. Equal educational opportunities.

Under the enabling legislation, any district could receive a maximum of $2,450, which would cover a school district where 10,000 students would be involved in a shift to year-round operation.

Amounts for grants are on a sliding scale with a maximum of $1 per pupil for the first 1,000, 50 cents each for the next 1,000, 25 cents for each of the next 1,000 and 10 cents each for the next 7,000.

A school district with more than 10,000 youngsters would still receive only the maximum of $2,450, Medlock said, while a school with only 1,000 pupils would receive $1,000 for its study.

Some Interest Reported
Mike Stramaglia, assistant superintendent for elementary and secondary education in Bakalis' office, said he was "somewhat surprised that no school districts to date applied for funds to investigate the 12-month school situation, since he said he knows a number of districts are interested in the plan. Stramaglia believes the delay in application is probably caused by a lack of knowledge that such funds are available.

Legislation setting up the grants also recommended reimbursement for transitional costs, but did not appropriate any money for such purposes. Medlock said, however, that any school district already converting to 12-month operation can file after July of next year for reimbursement for costs they incurred.

Medlock stressed that the legislation does not compel any district to adopt the year-round program. Nor does it set up any special way in which such a program would be handled if adopted, since each district, with its own problems, would have to adopt the program best suited to its own needs.

The Vigil Honor is the highest award that can be attained by a member of the order, which is a national brotherhood of Scout honor campers within the Boy Scout organization. About one in every 100 members receive the award.

It is awarded for unselfish service to a local Scout unit, the order or scouting in general. Six members of the Cahokia Lodge will receive the honor during the conclave. Names of Vigil candidates are withheld until the beginning of the ceremony scheduled for 10:30 p.m. Friday. The rites will conclude at a special breakfast for Vigil members only at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Conducting the ceremony for the Vigil will be Mike Durlin of Highland and Larry Todoroff and Jim Anderson, both of Granite City. W. P. "Mick" Strange, Madison, is general chairman of the local Vigil Honor committee.

Members of the lodge Saturday will be divided into discussion groups on the history, purpose and principles of the Order of the Arrow; the role of the adult member; functions of lodge committees; basic leadership skills; rendering further service as members of the Order of the Arrow; and improving the lodge.

Members who have been active Ordinal members for at least the past 10 months will be elevated to Brotherhood membership at the ceremonies Saturday evening.

Providing entertainment on both Friday and Saturday nights will be old movies of the 1930s in what the members term as "The Last Run Theatre."

To Elect Officers
The excitement of a political campaign will prevail Saturday afternoon. At 4:30 p.m., the campaigning for lodge and chapter officers will begin. The polls will close at 8:30 p.m. The activities will end following church services and a meeting of the lodge Sunday morning.

MR. AND MRS. ROGER LYNN STAGNER
Their wedding took place at Emmanuel Baptist Church. The bride is the former Tricia Lynn Kinworthy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Kinworthy, 178 Sunny Shores.

Tricia Lynn Kinworthy, Roger Stagner Are Wed

Miss Tricia Lynn Kinworthy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Kinworthy, 3001 Buxton Ave., and Roger Lynn Stagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Stagner, 4820 Warren's Ave., exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight setting on Aug. 26 at Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Vernon Covington before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolus. The couple stood within an arch illuminated with a trinity candle.

Candlelighters were Miss Marsha Stagner, a sister of the groom and Michael Corkran, the bride's cousin.

Miss Elaine Scott, organist, accompanied Odwin Bridges, who sang the theme from "Love Story," "One Hand, One Heart," "The Lord's Prayer" and "We've Only Just Begun."

A reception for guests was held at the Veterans of Foreign War Hall following the service. Mrs. Barbara Freeman presided over the guest book.

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal length gown fashioned of white silk organza. The Empire bodice of Chantilly lace featured a sheer yoke, high neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Matching lace formed a red-gorge effect on the A-line skirt and lace was repeated on the edge of the train. She wore a camelot headpiece to hold in place a long veil trimmed with scalloped Chantilly lace. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white daisies centered with a corsage.

The attendants were Mrs. Brenda Monse, a sister of the bride, matron of honor and Miss Brenda McClelland and Miss Marilyn Stagner, a sister of the groom, bridesmaids. They wore identically styled gowns of floral organza in orchid, pink and blue.

Designed with solid sheer bodices their dresses featured ruffle insets, enhanced with a row of buttons. The Empire line was accented with satin ribbons and the long sheer sleeves had ruffled cuffs.

A matching ruffle bordered the floral column skirts and they wore wide brimmed straw hats with long streamers in colors to match their frocks. Each girl held a bouquet of carnations.

A pastel apricot dress was worn by the flower girl, Tina Northcutt, who carried a basket of rose petals. Robin Joe Shanklin served as ringbearer.

William Monse, a brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, serving with groomsmen, Fred SunSocle and Mike Gooch. Ushers were brothers of the bride and groom, Ron Stagner and Rick Kinworthy.

Mrs. Kinworthy was attired in a floor length dress in apricot, fashioned with a high neckline and long sheer sleeves. The frock was accented with antique ivory lace and small covered buttons and her accessories were in antique ivory.

The groom's mother selected a full length gown in aqua blue, with a sleeveless bodice and a V-neckline. Shimmering defined the bodice and white accessories were worn to complement her costume. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Stagner entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner given in their home.

The newly married couple is residing at 178 Sunny Shores, Granite City, after a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla. Employment at Granite City Trust is held by the bride, who is a graduate of Granite City High School. She also attended Missouri Baptist College in Creve Coeur, Mo.

Mr. Stagner works at General Electric Co. in St. Louis. He also graduated from Granite City High School and attended Bailey Technical School, St. Louis.

Homemaker's Benefits, Mate's Earnings Linked

By FRANK CORRIK
Copley News Service

I'm 62 but my husband is only 59. I have been a homemaker all of my married life and have never worked under Social Security. Can I collect monthly Social Security retirement benefits?

A. No. Since you have no work credit of your own under Social Security, your husband must be entitled to Social Security benefits before you can collect.

He will become eligible for retirement retirement benefits at 62 or full benefits at 65. Q. Have many individuals ever commented on the "right to retire?"

—H.J. A. Some 30 elder statesmen in medicine and science recently commented on the pleasures and problems of aging.

Dr. Claude Heaton, former professor of obstetrics and gynecology at New York University, noted that old age may be the one period when people find some measure of peace and tranquility.

Most participants felt that the age of retirement should be advanced to 75 or older, and many agreed that an avocation was a necessary preparation for the later years.

Scientist Vannevar Bush, honorary chairman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, wrote that a hobby is a good idea, but that it should be kept secret to prevent comments that "the old boy is already slipping."

He also advised choosing a post-retirement activity in an area in which one is "decidedly ignorant," since the retiree "can learn, which even in old age is one of the primary joys of living."

Q. My husband is getting Social Security benefits and is over age 72. Last year, he earned $800 more than he had earned in any previous year but there hasn't been any change in his Social Security checks. How come?

—Mrs. A.B. A. Your husband is due an increase and he will be getting it soon.

It usually takes about nine months after the end of the year before all wages are posted to any individual's account.

As soon as all of your husband's wages for last year are recorded to his account, his file will be reviewed and he will be given an increase which will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972.

Q. I worked under Social Security from 1937 to 1945. Since 1945 I have worked employment covered by Railroad Retirement. I'll be 62 in two years and would like to know if I can collect from both?

—L.D.B. A. Yes, you can. An employee who is qualified for a railroad retirement benefit based on his railroad service and also for a Social Security benefit based on employment covered by that system may receive both benefits.

Q. As I am a single woman, how should my financial planning be handled?

—G.S. A. Careful financial planning under the guidance of an experienced attorney can provide significant lifetime advantages for a single woman.

In many cases, the use of an investment management account or a revocable living trust with your bank products financial personal benefits that can be acquired in no other way.

Q. Please tell me how the market works.

—Mrs. E.H.S. A. Some investors buy stocks for capital gains; that is, an increase in the price of the stock.

Each rise in price of the stock over the price they paid for it means they will have a capital gain if they sell the stock.

Q. Wise investors know that there are risks as well as rewards in investing, but naturally they hope to get the rewards.

The whole nation may share in the prosperity if their investments have helped make possible.

In order to get the facts about the stock market, call on your local and see Joe Johnson, exchange broker and you will learn about their art in plain talk.

March-Caldwell Nuptials At Quincy Presbyterian

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that taking place Sept. 9 in Quincy, Ill., of Miss Stanley Jeanne Caldwell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Caldwell, 1713 Spring Ave., and John William March, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lesca March of Rural Route 3, Edina, Mo.

The late afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Beran at the First Presbyterian Church in Quincy at 5 o'clock.

The sanctuary was illuminated with lighted tapers in three-branch candelabra and fresh garden flowers were arranged on the altar.

Mrs. Gregory, organist, furnished the traditional wedding music.

The former Miss Caldwell is a graduate of Granite City High School and attended Eastern Illinois University at Charleston. She has been residing in Quincy, where she was employed at Motorola Corp.

Her husband attended the University of Missouri, at Columbia, and now farms in the Edina, Mo. area.

The bride was lovely in a pure white gown designed after Empire lines, with long sleeves trimmed with Venise lace and delicate pink rosebuds. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white pom poms, tied with ribbon streamers.

Miss Margaret Benjamin, the maid of honor, was attired in an Empire gown in raspberry shades. The fitted bodice was in a solid color with the skirt in contrasting floral print. She held a single long-stemmed white mum.

Gary Mitchell served the groom as best man. A wedding dinner was served, to guests at the Host Room in Quincy immediately following the ceremony.

The couple presently is on a honeymoon trip in the Lake of the Ozarks region of Missouri. They will be at home Saturday on Rural Route 3, Edina, Mo.

The Eagles Auxiliary met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Brenda Rickert, president, announcing that the state conference meeting will be held Sept. 30 in Springfield.

Grand madam president, Mrs. Lucille Lewis, will be guest speaker at the conference, Mrs. Rickert said. Mrs. Angie Buehler reported on a meeting held in Taylorville.

Kiwanians, Jaycees Plan Vision Screening Program

Dr. Leo A. Roman, Granite City optometrist, spoke to 20 Kiwanians and Granite City Jaycees at Charlie's Restaurant Monday night to outline the importance of the Community Vision Screening Program which will be co-sponsored by the two clubs beginning Nov. 4.

Dr. Roman is president of the Southwestern Optometric Society, vice-president of the Illinois Optometric Association for the Division of Public Health and Optometric Federal Program Coordinator for the entire state of Illinois.

He pointed out that 50% of all blindness today could be prevented if everyone would obtain a professional eye examination at least once each year. Many eye defects go undetected and result in major behavioral problems in children. The primary objective of the community vision screening program is to detect these problems and to refer the people needing professional treatment to the proper person or agency.

The program will be under direction of the Vision Conservation Institute, whose executive director, Fred Norman, will be in Granite City to supervise the entire program. Since its founding in 1970, the Institute has grown from examining 3,000 persons that year to 11,000 people so far this year, according to Dr. Roman.

Dr. Roman said that 70% of the people examined in the three years had not had a professional eye examination in the past two years. This was in spite of the fact that 50% of the blindness today could be eliminated with this simple preventive measure, he said.

The Kiwanis Club and Jaycees will join to provide the manpower to handle this project. Joe Polychuk will be chairman for the Jaycees.

Other Kiwanis activities during the week was its annual family picnic on the Illinois River. About 80 persons attended the picnic at the club house of Herb and Lucille Schanot.

Ruth Mischke Becomes Mrs. Michael Sprague

Altar bouquets of white pompons and pink gladiolas decorated the sanctuary of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison for the afternoon wedding on Sept. 9 of Miss Ruth Ann Mischke and Michael Dane Sprague.

Officiating at the 1 o'clock double ring ceremony was the Rev. Sylvester Micek O.F.M.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Mischke, 1808 Sken St., Madison and Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Sprague, 1100 Englewood Drive, Rantoul, Ill.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Eleanor Tutka sang "Ave Maria," "God of Love," and "Our Wedding Prayer," accompanied by her father, the former Miss Mischke wore a candlelight gown.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Mischke wore a candlelight gown.

The Empire bodice was designed with a high neckline of re-embroidered Alencon lace accented with lace motifs tracing the high rise waistline.

Appliques of lace, etched with pearls, trimmed the long full sleeves and cuffs and were repeated on the long skirt, cascading gently into a full sweep train.

She wore a victorian style headpiece created of Alencon lace holding in place a shoulder length veil of candlelight illusion. She carried a victorian bouquet of white pompons interspersed with baby pink roses and baby breath and encircled with ivy.

Miss Leslie Lynn Hulse, maid of honor, chose a camelot style dress of pink silk worsted designed with a Venetian lace bodice, long English court sleeves and a full length softly flowing skirt.

She wore a picture hat in a matching shade and held a bouquet of pink and white daisy pompons with baby breath and a touch of ivy.

The flower girl, Cathy Ballard, was dressed in a candlelight chiffon frock with Venice lace and pink ribbon trimming the Empire bodice. She carried a basket of rose petals.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mischke selected a pale pink rayon magnum dress fashioned with an Empire waist and an A-line silhouette skirt. The high collar and cuffs of the long sleeves were elegantly trimmed in matching Venice lace, embellished with seed pearls. She wore a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Sprague, mother of the groom, was attired in a gown of maize crepe and matching Swiss lace, styled with a modified Empire bodice, a high neckline and long full sleeves. Her flowers were yellow carnations.

Attending the bridegroom was Dennis Becht, best man, James Jones, a cousin of the groom, was usher.

Guests were received at the Venice Recreation Center following the ceremony.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Friday evening at Charlie's Restaurant. Miss Sheri Ballard presided over the guest book at the reception.

The newly married couple will reside in Franklin Park, Ill. A graduate of Madison High School, the former Miss Mischke received a B.S. degree in Education at Eastern Illinois University.

Mr. Sprague is a graduate of Rantoul High School and Eastern Illinois University. He will teach 5th and 6th grade students in the River Grove (Ill.) School District.

Long 'Warm' Summer of Concern for Others by Local Residents

Summer still officially has a few days left, but most Quad-Cityans are putting it behind them in order to concentrate on the busy activities of autumn.

Before the season changes next week, it seems appropriate to think back to some of the summer's concerns which made each of us prouder to be a citizen of this community and country.

Quad-Cityans responded wholeheartedly to help expand the visual memories of John Allen Young, eight years old, whose sight is failing. They also aided the family of Ray Gean, who underwent successful kidney transplant surgery.

Karen Reisinger, 15, did so well in swimming competition that she almost qualified for the international Olympics despite her youth. Diane Daugherty, also 15, moved up several years in levels of competition to play in the 1972 Illinois women's softball tournament—and earned the trophy as most valuable of all the players.

Clifford Duniphan, a volunteer first-aid instructor for 17 years, put his knowledge to timely use: an American Steel Foundries employee, unable to revive a fellow worker whose breathing halted during a respiratory attack.

Those were, of course, not the only events of the summer; this community's second drug-related fatality was recorded, for example, and there were other tragedies. But the individual accomplishments and the instances of concern for others provide many happy recollections.

Quad-Cityans care, and with a warmth that exceeds the warmth of the weather, no matter what the season.

Illinoisans in Key Roles If Republicans Control U. S. House

Press-Record Washington bureau—House Minority Whip Leslie C. Arends of Illinois will have to consider a new job if Republicans win a net gain of 35 seats this fall to wrest control from the Democrats.

House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan predicts that House Republicans will be the beneficiaries of Democratic disenchantment with Sen. George McGovern and the national ticket.

If events make Ford a prophet with honor in his own party, he and the other Republican leaders in the house will play "musical chairs."

Rather than change his title from minority leader to majority leader, Ford undoubtedly will become "Speaker of the House" if the Democrats lose and Carl Albert of Oklahoma is forced down from the chair.

Arends, Ford's chief deputy, has been minority whip longer than anyone in the history of the House. The dean of Illinois Republicans is heir-presumptive to Ford's seat.

Barring a leadership battle between the GOP Old Guard and "young Turks," it would probably be simply a question of whether Arends wants the job. On the basis of existing party rules for organizing purposes, Arends apparently has three choices:

1. If he should become majority leader, he would have to give up his committee assignments. He is presently the ranking Republican on the House Armed Services Committee.

2. If he should elect to remain the whip post, becoming the new majority leader's deputy, he could remain on the armed services committee, but at one step below the chairmanship.

3. He could decline both, thus assuming himself the chairmanship of the Armed Services Committee.

Rep. John B. Anderson, another Illinoisan, is regarded among some Republicans as a bright prospect for majority leader should the Democrats lose the House. He is chairman of the Republican Conference Committee and is able, articulate and highly respected.

Rep. Carl Albert Smith, California Republican, is retiring this year. Smith is ranking minority member of the House Rules Committee. Anderson is its second-ranking member. The Democrats are retiring this year. Smith and Smith's departure and if the Republicans win.

Anderson would have to give up his conference chairmanship to head rules. Individual choices and changes in party rules would have much to say about changing seats, but the Democrats could render all speculation academic by retaining control of the House.

But the Nixon administration and its Congressional liaison men have had to cope with a political situation unique in this century.

Not since the inauguration of Zachary Taylor in 1849 has a president entered office facing so many majorities in both houses of Congress.

The main issue separating the White House and Congress has been national priorities and the President's nomination of a presidential pick to head rules.

Moderates and liberals on Capitol Hill generally have voted to spend less than the President has asked for defense, foreign aid and space and more on education, health, social security and pollution control.

However, even with a hostile Congress, Mr. Nixon has slugged it out and won some victories on the Hill.

Congress, with some modifications, approved his request for an antiballistic missile system, incorporated most of the administration's anticommunist programs into four major bills.

The 92nd Congress, which convened in January, approved a reform plan for the postal service and passed a new economic policy package.

From any perspective, Mr. Nixon has to count 1972 as a very good year.

The President's six "great goals"—welfare reform, national health insurance, environmental programs, revenue sharing, government reorganization and a full employment economy—all have yet to be realized.

The 92nd Congress, which convened in January, approved a reform plan for the postal service and passed a new economic policy package.

From any perspective, Mr. Nixon has to count 1972 as a very good year.

OLYMPIC GAMES, 1972

Arab Support of Terrorism Darkens 20th Olympiad

Copley News Service

Members of the Israeli Olympic Team were not the only victims of the tragedy at Munich. The Arab terrorists who planned the attack on the Israeli Olympic team ended in the wholesale slaughter of their hostages committed an outrage against one of the precious hopes of mankind.

The Olympic spirit—the idea that athletes of all nations can compete in an atmosphere immune to the political turmoil of the world today to allow this incident—in which innocent athletes are the victims—to pass by without an unequivocal condemnation of government action which in any way are providing support or sympathy to the terrorist organization responsible.

It is not really a political cause which the terrorists represent, but a descent into barbarism. The athletes themselves have succeeded. However, the Olympic Committee itself has not done as well. For example, it bowed to political pressure in denying Rhodesian athletes the right to compete.

And the IOC faces complaints of political bias among its judges, particularly those from iron curtain countries. Even so, up to the violence, there had been only a moderate political shadow over the 20th Olympiad.

Now that shadow has darkened into a cloud of the most brutal terrorism and outright racism. It would be a mistake for the world today to allow this incident—in which innocent athletes are the victims—to pass by without an unequivocal condemnation of government action which in any way are providing support or sympathy to the terrorist organization responsible.

Big Nixon Lead Reflects a Year of Accomplishment

By EDWARD NEILAN

Copley News Service

Washington — Sometime in the future, when Richard Milhous Nixon gets around to his memoirs, he will have to write that 1972 was a very good year.

Assuming that he wins the November election, it will be the year that he put it all together.

Mr. Nixon or any other American president before him could hardly single out 12 months that he considered more politically accomplished and personally satisfying.

Critics have said that the recent GOP convention in Miami Beach was too tightly scripted; that even the spontaneity of the convention floor was rehearsed.

There is another side of that coin, however. To some observers it is the same thoroughness of planning that pulled off the China and Soviet visits, achieved the withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, carried the Republican colors into a national election for a fifth time — twice Dwight D. Eisenhower's vice presidential candidate, once unsuccessfully (1960) and once successfully (1968) as a presidential candidate — the 1972 scenario is unfolding as planned.

The economy is bullish. Most U.S. troops are back home from Vietnam.

The visits to Peking and Moscow have transformed Richard Nixon, the staunch anti-Communist, into President Nixon, the peacemaker.

Across the nation, relative tranquility contrasts with the riots and demonstrations of years past.

The efforts at Miami Beach to embarrass the President were actually minor; the national anti-protest movement seems to be dying.

Mr. Nixon has presided over both the winding down of the war and the near elimination of the draft, two key points in defusing the protest movement.

There are some challenges left, some minuses still among the pluses.

Although American ground troops have left the fighting to South Vietnamese forces, U.S. planes are bombing throughout Indochina at record levels.

American prisoners of war remain in North Vietnamese camps.

Despite high-level diplomatic maneuvering, including many plans for a presidential emissary Henry Kissinger, the Paris peace talks continue to be deadlocked.

The remaining challenge to the President in Vietnam is to achieve an honorable solution of the Vietnam war which would include halting the bombing, and the return of the POWs.

The President's six "great goals"—welfare reform, national health insurance, environmental programs, revenue sharing, government reorganization and a full employment economy—all have yet to be realized.

The 92nd Congress, which convened in January, approved a reform plan for the postal service and passed a new economic policy package.

From any perspective, Mr. Nixon has to count 1972 as a very good year.

But the Nixon administration and its Congressional liaison men have had to cope with a political situation unique in this century.

Not since the inauguration of Zachary Taylor in 1849 has a president entered office facing so many majorities in both houses of Congress.

The main issue separating the White House and Congress has been national priorities and the President's nomination of a presidential pick to head rules.

Moderates and liberals on Capitol Hill generally have voted to spend less than the President has asked for defense, foreign aid and space and more on education, health, social security and pollution control.

However, even with a hostile Congress, Mr. Nixon has slugged it out and won some victories on the Hill.

Congress, with some modifications, approved his request for an antiballistic missile system, incorporated most of the administration's anticommunist programs into four major bills.

ECOLOGY, FUNDS DELAY CROSSING SEPARATION

To the Editor:

Recently you published a letter for me concerning a traffic problem at the Venice railroad crossing.

Following is the answer to the problem, as received from Governor Ogilvie. I know many people are interested in what you may wish to print the letter.

CHARLES KENNERLY

2308 Sheridan Ave.

Dear Mr. Kennerly: Thank you for your letter concerning the railroad crossing problem at Venice and the proposed construction on Illinois 3. We appreciate and share your concern in the delay and inconvenience caused by the railroad blockage in Venice.

There are over 900 crossings on our primary highway system throughout the state and the same conditions are prevalent at many of the crossings, especially in urban areas.

The state does not have the authority to control the railroad operations. A state statute which prohibits a stopped train from blocking a public highway for longer than ten minutes. But this law is difficult to enforce, as civil action is required by the complainant who is delayed or inconvenienced.

Now that shadow has darkened into a cloud of the most brutal terrorism and outright racism. It would be a mistake for the world today to allow this incident—in which innocent athletes are the victims—to pass by without an unequivocal condemnation of government action which in any way are providing support or sympathy to the terrorist organization responsible.

McGOVERN CONSIDERATE OF WORKING PEOPLE

To the Editor:

This is not a fair tale, but once upon a time, not so long ago, the Agriculture Department turned down a request of Mid-America Dairyman, Inc., to increase the milk subsidy.

After giving the matter some thought, Mid-America and two other organizations of dairymen decided to contribute $200,000 to the Republican Party and, behold, the Agriculture Department reconsidered and the milk subsidy was increased by at least $500,000,000.

Yes, five hundred million dollars! How much more money, pretty good return on their investment. No wonder the officers of the Republican Party are so confident.

No wonder they can put on such a slick television show to try to convince us that everything is just right. What a colossal sufficiency of such fairy godfathers they must have, if the whole truth were known.

However, this is not the end of the tale. After the story of the government's decision came out, the president of the American Dairyman said, "Whether we like it or not, this is the way the system works."

We are all painfully aware that the system does work that way for corporations and individuals worth millions of dollars.

But how does it work for all the Joe Lunchbuckers and Betsy Brownbags who stare at the tax deductions on their paychecks and wonder what they are getting for their money?

And who not only worry about paying, but resent paying their ever increasing property taxes?

Just keep in mind that the $500,000,000 given the dairy industry is not a deduction that you state at on your paycheck.

However, the man now occupying the White House came down and criticizes as "inflationary" any appropriation requested to aid education. Can you imagine what a relief $500,000,000 subsidy to run our schools would be for us taxpayers?

George McGovern is saying, "It's time Joe Lunchbucker and Betsy Brownbag are given some of the money." I do not consider that a radical statement.

Franklin Roosevelt was accused by some of being a radical who was going to ruin the country with all his new ideas. He was voting public dissent, agree with that thinking. They knew the time had come for change.

Of course, Roosevelt made some mistakes, but the person who doesn't make mistakes is seldom doing anything.

Cracking Patio Slab A Problem

By GENE GARY
Copley News Service

Q. The grounds of our home have just been landscaped with concrete patios and walks. Already cracks are beginning to appear, some hairline and others increasing in width.

Would you please inform us what is the best way to repair these? Are there any measures that can be taken to keep these large cemented areas in as good condition as possible?—A. L.

A. The cracking may be due to having poured too large an area without expansion joints to take up the expansion and contraction, caused by temperature changes. No larger than approximately a 10-square-foot section should be poured without an expansion joint.

Even so, most all concrete pours will develop hairline cracks, which is not serious. However, your problem may also be caused by soft places under the concrete, which may not have been properly filled and packed.

These basic faults could cause continued cracking. The most satisfactory material to overcome shrinkage in concrete repairs is one of the non-shrink mortars. These are available as pre-mixed materials to which only water need be added. This can be mixed thin enough to flow into small cracks or a stiffer mixture for the wider cracks.

I would advise waiting a few months to see what extent the cracking continues before patching. If the problem gets too severe, the solution would be to do the job over, making sure you have a firm base.

Q. What can be done to clear up moisture in my closets, bathroom and bedrooms? In the evening, the beds seem damp, the towels never dry in the bathroom and there is mildew on the walls and other signs of dampness.

I have tried opening windows with no results. The house has plenty of vents underneath and there is no dampness under the house.—G. F., Napa, Calif.

A. The crawl space should have a vaporproof ground cover. Soil moisture rises by capillary action within the crawl space. Studies have shown moisture may be present even though the ground seems to be dry and dusty.

The soil cover should consist of polyethylene film or 35-pound rolled roofing paper. You also should try to reduce the moisture content of the air in the house by running an exhaust fan in the kitchen when cooking.

Vent an automatic clothes dryer to the outside, open windows in the bathroom after baths and showers. Gas or oil-fired room heaters must be vented to the outdoors.

A dehumidifier would be a big help, keeping it on during the day. It works automatically and only when the moisture reaches a certain content.

Q. Several months ago we purchased an antique bird's-eye maple dresser. We did not carefully inspect the drawers until we returned home. We then noticed a very pungent, musty odor. The inside of the dresser has the same odor.

We washed the dresser and the drawers inside and out with soap and water and then coated it with varnish. This seemed to help for a while, but the odor seems to come back. Do you have any suggestions?—Mrs. Linda A. W.

A. It is difficult to understand the cause of your problem if all interior surfaces of the dresser and both inside and outside of the drawers have been varnished. Try washing all surfaces of the dresser, including the back, with a solution of household bleach and detergent.

Rinse well, then air outdoors, in the sun if possible. Then, when thoroughly dry, apply another coat of varnish or shellac to all edges and surfaces.

Q. We recently purchased a used crib for our baby, a dark maple piece of furniture with a large decal of a duck in a basket on the footboard. Do you have any suggestions of how we can remove this decal without damaging the finish?—W. F. M.

A. Some stationers and stores selling decals have a special blotter-type paper for removing decals. Follow the instructions on the blotter. If the decal is covered with varnish or shellac, first remove the coating.

If blotting paper is not obtainable in your area, saturate several thicknesses of tissue paper and place over the decal, allowing it to remain about one hour, keeping it well moistened. Try lifting a corner of the decal with the point of a knife with a small, sharp blade. Repeat the soaking, if necessary.

New Catfish Farmers May Be Ones Who Get Skinned

Copley News Service

Springfield—There may be a new kind of gold growing on Illinois farms, but unless the farmer is careful, it may be the farmer instead of the product who gets skinned. Or hooked.

Fish farming — particularly for catfish — is being touted in many areas as the coming thing, and indeed in some places, particularly in Arkansas and Mississippi, catfish farmer are netting from $100 to $200 per acre of water.

But prospective fish farmers who read glowing magazine articles describing how easy it is to turn the "south 40" into a source of easy income just letting nature take its course, are being warned in Illinois that let size fish during a single season.

on's a fishy eye. Al Lopnot, chief fisheries biologist for the state conservation department, warns that "Technical knowledge cannot be over-emphasized. Too many popular articles on the subject neglect this important issue, resulting in bankruptcy for many 'rookie' catfish farmers."

Area Limited. The department has calculated that only the southern extremity of the state and a narrow band running along the Mississippi to the west as far up as the middle of Adams County, are likely locations for catfish farming, because only these sections have growing seasons of 200 to 220 days.

Anything less is too short to bring fingerlings turn into market size fish during a single season.

Last year, there were 35 fish farmers licensed in the state, and 24 of these were actually raising and selling fish. Between them, they had 361 acres underwater in 217 ponds, producing 88,000 pounds of fish valued at $130,000.

Rainbow trout took the biggest bite of the total profits with 50,000 pounds harvested, while channel catfish accounted for 31,000 pounds. Another 42,000 pounds of golden shiners were raised and harvested for use as bait, while limited numbers of bluntnose minnows, bluegill, largemouth bass, flatnose minnows, hybrid sunfish and blueheads also were successfully grown.

The average farmer raising traditional crops gains some rough veterinary skills and finds he needs some special equipment to operate successfully, and the same is true for the prospective fish farmer.

The size and shape of the pond, its bottom, depth, temperature and oxygen content are all important to prevent loss of stock, while the fish farmer also must learn to recognize fish diseases including external protozoans, parasitic copepods, monogeneic flukes, and bacterial infections.

He better know also how to treat them once he's identified them, and should obtain and learn to use both an oxygen test kit and a microscope, Lopnot urges.

It adds up to a big change

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

We leave out the radiator. So the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry. It's air-cooled.)

We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.

We leave out the drive shaft. You know, the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)

Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.

As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

Student Finds Berlin Wall Separates Busy Life from a 'Living Death' Under Communist Rule

By GARY KEBBEL

(Last of three articles on his stay in Germany this summer by an Illinois State University sophomore, son of William Keibel, a Press-Record printer.)

While studying German this summer near Munich, Germany, I traveled as often as possible through the country. One city that no tourist in Germany wants to miss is Berlin.

I flew to Berlin from Munich on a Pan American 727 Europe Jet. The German-based airline, Lufthansa, can't fly over East Germany to land in West Berlin. W. Berlin is really an island belonging to W. Germany, but lying in E. Germany.

My plane landed at Tempelhof Airport in W. Berlin, the same airport where American and British soldiers landed in 1945 and 1949 during the famous Berlin airlift. From the airport, buses or subway trains take one to the middle of the city.

Downtown W. Berlin appeared as new, colorful and busy as any large American city.

On the huge, tree-lined boulevards were dress shops with the latest European and American fashions, theaters where "Goofy at the Olympics" was playing, stylish new buildings and many sidewalk cafes.

W. Berliners show how much they like their rebuilt city by sitting for hours in a sidewalk cafe talking over a Berliner Kindl Beer or by just strolling and window shopping.

As all Europeans, W. Berliners can easily spot an American walking down the street. If they see you just standing around, they'll come up and introduce themselves in fairly good English—and begin to ask what your impressions of Berlin are.

If you are speaking with an older person, he will usually turn the conversation to E. Berlin.

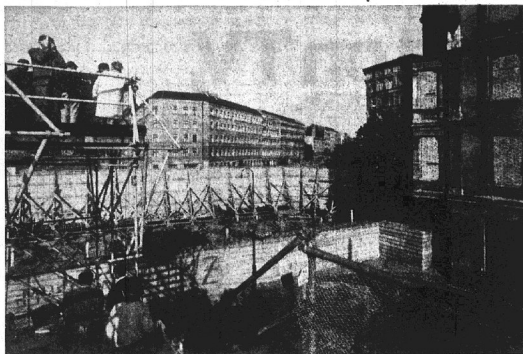

Most Germans will freely express how stupid they think it was that Americans let Berlin be divided. They aren't unfriendly or adamant, just truthful.

A younger person will express his disgust over the fact that Berlin is divided, but more often will switch the conversation to America.

As nearly all German youth, a young Berliner wants to visit America for a year or two. He will ask questions about McGovern and Nixon, say that if he were American he'd vote for McGovern, discuss the latest campaign developments with you and ask if Chicago still has gangsters.

Most Germans avidly follow American politics, because so many moves that America makes affect the world. Berliners would much rather talk about America, politics or economics than they would about World War II. Accordingly, there is only one war ruin still standing in W. Berlin to visibly remind people of the horror of war.

A bombed-out Lutheran Church stands in the middle of the busiest street in Berlin, and it is the only such building in Berlin. All other war ruins have been restored to their original form.

or rebuilt according to American architecture.

After a sauerkraut and sausage dinner and a night out in the beer halls, I decided to take the subway into East Berlin the next morning.

The subway train's last stop is a station a few yards from the E.-German border.

After leaving the train, I followed the crowd down below the station into a waiting room. As people enter the room, they are compared with their passport pictures by a guard.

The guards then take the passports to be checked against their files of men wanted by the E. German government.

During this time, W. German marks must be exchanged for E. German marks. About 20 minutes later, you are allowed to go into E. Berlin with your passport and a 24-hour visa.

E. Berlin is a red Serling nightmare compared to W. Berlin. The streets are nearly deserted, the buildings are simple gray, four-walled structures and the shopping areas sport out-moded clothes.

Posters of Marx and Engels—co-authors of The Communist Manifesto—hang on buildings that also support the Russian and E. German flags.

A bookstore displays books about Lenin, Marx and Engels along with books like The Dangers of Capitalism.

Armed guards are seen anywhere in the city, with the greatest concentration near the wall, where there are also regular jeep patrols.

The Berlin wall is actually two walls with a section of "no man's land" in between. The walls are about 10 feet high and are topped with barbed wire.

The "no man's land" is about 300 yards wide, and is constantly guarded by soldiers in watch towers.

While I was walking near the wall, a jeepload of four armed soldiers stopped a block ahead of me and waited for me to walk past them.

The first thing I thought about was that they wanted to take away my camera or film, because the E. German government doesn't allow tourists to photograph the wall or the guards.

When I came close enough to them to say "Guten Tag" (hello), I saw that none of them could have been over 18 years old. As young as they were, they were trained border police (Volkspolizei)—trained to shoot their own countrymen, if any should try to escape into W. Berlin.

We talked for a few minutes about the places I should see while I was in E. Berlin, and I finally asked them if I could take their picture.

They looked around for a commanding officer, told me not to tell anyone, and said "Yes."

Unfortunately, as I was getting my camera ready, they saw another patrol jeep and had to drive away. They passed me twice more during the day, and both times they waved (discreetly).

After meeting the soldiers, I walked down several side streets to see the E. Berlin that the tour buses can't see.

Everything I saw was depressing. Besides the gray and dingy from the times of Imperial Germany are now piles many of the destroyed buildings were never repaired.

SYMBOL OF DIVIDED CITY is the Brandenburger Gate, located a few feet inside East Berlin. Barbed wire enforcing Iron Curtain travel restrictions is visible in the foreground.

The shells of churches without steeples and without roofs still stand in E. Berlin.

Many once-beautiful churches and governmental buildings dating from the times of Imperial Germany are now piles of rubble overgrown with weeds. E. Berliners daily experience the horror and depression that I did. They know that the wall separating Capitalism from Communism also separates life from living death.

Crossing back to W. Berlin was like receiving a reprieve on a death sentence. Words cannot fully describe the horrors of Communism.

Motor Camping Fun If You Choose Right Rig; Many Varieties Offered

By JEFF CUSHING

Copley News Service

When Emmett T. Costello of Durham, N. C., picked up his bags and his family for a three-week vacation of motor camping along the eastern seaboard, he didn't know what he was getting in for.

"After three days I was ready to turn around and go home," he recalls.

"I thought we were all going to explode, all crammed to gether like that."

"I'll never do it again. My only regret is that I own this damned camper, lock, stock and barrel. Now I've got to figure a way to get rid of it."

Costello's unfortunate experience could easily have been avoided.

First of all, he tried to get off as least expensively as possible.

Second, he made the mistake of buying a unit instead of renting it first to see if motor camping was for him.

"Most dealers try to point out the shortcomings of motor camping and give a realistic picture of what traveling in a motor home, camper unit or trailer is really like," explains recreational dealer Albert Winn.

"And if a customer has any qualms about buying a unit, we strongly suggest that he rent one first. If a guy rents the right kind of unit, I guarantee he'll be back to buy one."

The catchall term for those live-aboard units is "recreational vehicle" or RV.

Included in this category are the traditional travel trailers, camping trailers, truck campers with their slide-in shells, the luxurious motor homes and the latest idea in the field, the "5th Wheel" trailer, so named because its special hitch connection is similar to that found on commercial tractor trailer rigs.

Here is a breakdown of the RV field:

Camping Trailers: These are the RV fleet. Priced from about $300 on up to $4,000, they are compact and light and can easily be towed even by small economy cars.

Constructed of aluminum or fiber glass, they have collapsible sides of canvas, vinyl or even sheet ABS plastic.

When expanded, they can accommodate up to six people—if they are very good friends.

Travel Trailers: These are the more traditional RV units. They range in size from 10 to 35 feet and can cost as little as $1,500 or as much as $16,000. Some feature telescopic sides for lower wind drag.

They are more luxurious than camping trailers and some units feature such amenities as bathtubs, self-cleaning ovens and air conditioning.

Truck Campers: It seems there are more of these than any other form of recreational vehicle on the road.

But actually they are the third most popular RV on the market. Stripped-down shells that slide onto the bed of a ½-ton pickup can cost as little as $1,000.

Deluxe units affixed permanently to a truck chassis can easily cost $4,000. Some run as high as $7,000.

Motor Homes: They are the Cadillac of the recreational vehicle fleet. They are self-contained, very comfortable and very expensive.

Mini-motor homes built on a VW or other van start at around $5,000. But the larger units (some are as long as 40 feet) can cost $20,000.

Recreational vehicles have an advantage over automobiles and trucks in that they depreciate at a much lower rate.

"The biggest value drop is during the first year," says dealer Winn.

"But unlike a car where the model year is important, RV owners are more concerned with what the unit has to offer in the way of conveniences."

Because of their high initial cost, payments are often stretched out over six or seven years. A down payment of 10% is average.

the other day I saw a strange-looking trailer that made me rub my eyes in wonder.

It looked more like a boat than a trailer, but then again it looked almost too cumbersome to be a boat. In brief, what in the heck was it?—T.P.

A. What you saw wasn't a mirage, but the latest concept in recreational living. It is called a "trailerable houseboat" and offers the advantages of both a boat and a trailer.

The unit is carried on a trailer and when you come upon a lake or a river you want to explore, all you have to do is back into the water and crank up the motor.

The cost of these trailerable houseboats is on the high side: they start at around $7,000.

Forged Prescription Offered at Drug Store

Ricky Don Mitchell, 17, of Hillsboro, Mo., was charged with attempting to pass a forged prescription at Gasen's Drug Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center at 6:15 p.m. Monday.

Police said the pharmacist became suspicious of the physician's name and called his office in St. Louis. An office nurse reported the prescription form presented here was no longer in use. The prescription called for 24 capsules of Durvon and 30 Preludin capsules.

The youth said a 22-year-old St. Louis woman brought him to Granite City and asked him to get the prescription filled. He denied knowing the form was forged.

Woodrow Hopkins, 47, Dies at Hospital

Woodrow Howard Hopkins, 47, of 3002 E. 23rd St., died in the John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis, at 11:45 p.m. Monday following an illness of seven months. He had been a patient in the hospital four months.

Mr. Hopkins, who was employed as a truck driver, lived in Granite City 18 years.

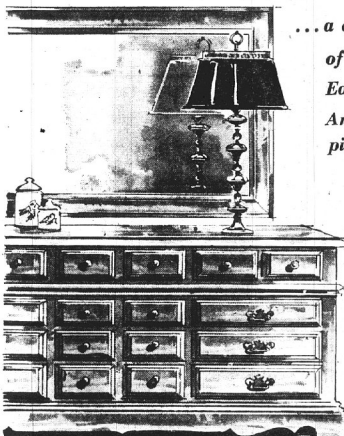

He is survived by five sons, Gary of Watertown, N.Y., Larry of Granite City, and Donald, Daniel and Jeffrey, all of Madison, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services are given in today's obituary column.

Local Grapes Win Top Award at DuQuoin Fair

A bunch of Blue Concord grapes cultivated by Glen Lilly, 2149 Robert Ave., won the judges' approval at the DuQuoin State Fair and earned the Granite City man a first place award.

Lilly was notified by letter that his entry was judged the most outstanding grapes submitted. Enclosed in the envelope was a gold ribbon, instead of the usual blue one signifying first place. He explained the gold award was given this year as the fair was celebrating its 50th anniversary.

The current award marks the fourth consecutive year the Granite City hobbyist has achieved ribbons at the DuQuoin Fair, including two firsts and the same number of second place ribbons. The grapes were grown in an arbor in rear yard at the Lilly home.

Rage in State Over Cruelty At Olympics Site -- Ogilvie

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE

Even in the pleasant small towns and beautiful countryside of Illinois, there's no escape from tragedy.

Many of us were almost eyewitnesses to the savage murders in Munich because of the miracle of worldwide television.

We are sickened and enraged and look for someone to blame.

Yet man's cruelty continues, and the horror we felt for Bifra, Hue, Bangladesh—or for a beaten child or murdered girl in Chicago—tends to recede in the face of continuing outrages.

When I wired the condolences of our state to Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's prime minister, I was reminded of our long chat together this spring.

I was deeply impressed with Mrs. Meir's grasp of detail, her brisk, no-nonsense manner with her staff, and above all, with her deep concern for her people.

Notably, in the aftermath of the Munich slayings, she did not blame the security forces of West Germany. She has faced the realities of senseless killings too often to blame those who try to prevent such violence.

Thanks to a learned friend, I was able to add a phrase in Hebrew to my wire to Mrs. Meir. Literally translated, it means: "May God swallow death in victory."

And the victory for which we all pray is the end to the violence that tears at Israel, Northern Ireland, Vietnam and countless victims of crime everywhere.

Almost at the same time as the dread news, from Munich came good news for Illinois—and I mean all of Illinois.

We were the Number One state again in the latest listing of farm goods sold abroad.

When you consider that two in five Illinois residents are dependent directly or indirectly on our great farm production, you can see why I consider the official announcement such good news.

We're Number One, and the figures prove we try harder than we succeed.

I told a friend that being governor of a state like Illinois is like being head of General Motors. Or maybe like owning the Yankees back in the '50s.

Pay State Bills Promptly for Big Saving--Barringer

Dean Barringer, Democratic candidate for state comptroller, on a tour of Springfield, Peoria, Rockford, Moline and Rock Island, estimated he could save the state between $20 million and $30 million and allow more open, competitive bidding on contracts by paying the state's bills in a 30-day period.

"Barringer said, 'The expenditures of fiscal year 1972 were $5.3 billion; of that amount, $86 million was spent for contractual services, electronic data processing, telecommunications, printing, commodities and operation of automobile equipment.'

'It is in these areas that I can save up to $30 million by establishing sound business principles provided for by the new State Comptroller Act,' Barringer said.

'The former dean of business affairs at Shawnee College said, 'A common practice of vendors doing business with the state has been to protect themselves by discounting their contracts to financial institutions at a cost to the vendor of approximately 10%.'

'This 10% has been added to contracts or bid out of necessity by the vendor. This practice is both legitimate and necessary at this point; however, the reason for the vendor's discounting of paper is the state's notorious reputation for slow payment of the state's bills.'

Driver and Passenger Hurt in Auto Accident

Two persons were injured when the auto of Mile E. Thomas, 67, of 2014 Myrtle Ave., struck the parked car of Paul Cammader of the 3200 block of Maryville Road at Calander's home early this week.

Thomas and Mrs. Mary Thomas, 62, of the same address, were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Mrs. Thomas was admitted with abrasions and contusions to her forehead, nose and right knee, lacerations to her forehead and a contusion to her right elbow.

The driver was treated for minor injuries, including a contusion to his chest, and was released.

Grant for Safety Project Awarded GC

Illinois Transportation Secretary William F. Cellini has announced the approval of a highway safety project which provides for purchase of three VASCAR electronic speedometers to be used by the Granite City Police Department.

The total cost of the project will be approximately $3,000. One-half of the costs will be reimbursed to Granite City, upon completion of the project, from federal funds available to the State of Illinois under provisions of the Highway Safety Act of 1966, Secretary Cellini said.

The project is one of more than 850 county and municipal projects being conducted by State agencies under the direction of Governor Richard B. Ogilvie to promote greater highway safety through advanced technology and training.

Cable Television Could Aid Handicapped

Cable television in Illinois could provide special programs for handicapped persons that would substantially improve their lives, according to Arlen S. Gould, special education coordinator for the Governor's Office of Human Resources.

Gould testified last week in Chicago at a public hearing of the Illinois Commerce Commission on cable television. He urged that a formulated guarantee of acceptable blocks of time and channel utilization of cable TV be provided for the mentally and physically handicapped citizens of the state.

Programs Outlined

Gould outlined several programs that could be of benefit to handicapped persons. They are: (1) programs that alert parents to the systems of handicaps in children and inform them of available diagnostic and treatment service—thereby enhancing the community system of outreach and case-finding;

(2) a total curriculum of current educational and social services as they exist in institutions and agencies; (3) a full range of educational services available to the handicapped in rural areas where transportation problems or the absence of any facility-based programs make care and treatment impossible.

Gould told the commission that a poll was taken last spring of 67 agencies that represent thousands of handicapped individuals in the state about the possible use of cable television to bring rehabilitation, educational and social services to the handicapped.

In that poll 84.1% said that if proper programs were available, CATV would permit them to reach more persons with the specific disabilities than they work with each day; and 89% felt it would be necessary to ensure certain amounts of time for programs to the handicapped.

tionable and 4.4% had no opinion.

Hold Reservations

"This data made it obvious to our office that Illinois' handicapped have overwhelming reservations concerning present licensing arrangements to protect their right benefit from the impact of this new technology."

Gould reported in the past four years Illinois has sharply increased reimbursement to school districts for special education programs; dropped the mandatory school age for handicapped children to three-years; developed a new section in the school code for the learning disabled child; allowed for reimbursement for summer school program for handicapped children; developed an innovative program to retrain inner city and rural teachers of these handicapped in poverty areas and instituted numerous other programs.

"While these measures, recently signed into law by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, have clearly made Illinois the number one state in the nation relative to the training and education of the handicapped child, it is only a beginning in Illinois' strong commitment to assist every handicapped individual," Gould stated.

Partney to Back Ogilvie For Governor

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie has won the endorsement of several mayors of communities in Madison County.

Adding their names to a list of municipal leaders who support Ogilvie for re-election are: Donald Partney of Granite City, Frank Keasler of East Alton, Ervin Pledge of Bebalto and Milo F. Culp of Wood River.

Partney, a Democrat, said he intends to support the Republican governor in the November election because "Ogilvie has done more for Granite City and Southern Illinois than any other governor I can remember since I have been in politics."

The mayor cited the governor's recently announced plan to build drainage facilities for the Doherty Slough area of Nanticoke Township and north Granite City as being among improvements in this area.

The officials have joined the Mayors for Ogilvie Committee, a statewide organization of more than 300 mayors supporting Governor Ogilvie's bid for re-election.

The mayors will "take the record of the Ogilvie administration to the people of their

Franchise Taxes, Fees Up Over Last Year

Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced that $975,066 was collected in franchise taxes and fees by the Corporation Division in August, an increase of $107,594 over the $867,472 collected in August last year.

In the first eight months of this year $22,894,550 has been collected, for an increase of $1,554,183 over the $21,340,366 collected in the same period of 1971.

Certificates of Incorporation and Authority were issued to 1,367 new corporations in August, which is 243 more than the 1,124 new corporations in August of last year.

In the first eight months of 1972 11,369 new corporations have been incorporated or licensed in Illinois, an increase of 2,694 over the 8,745 new corporations in the same period of 1971.

In announcing their support of Ogilvie, the four mayors cited "outstanding efforts" on behalf of local government, especially the revenue sharing program with cities and villages and creation of the Department of Local Government Affairs.

$65 Cash Stolen in Spartan Gas Burglary

A total of $65 in cash, including $12 change, was stolen from a desk drawer in a burglary at the Spartan Gas Co., 2805 Edwardsville Road, it was reported Monday by Fred Shafer.

Entry was gained by breaking a window in an overhead door with a rock, police said.

Survivors of Albert H. Pfader, 71, of 2205 Monroe St., for whom funeral services were held during the weekend, included two stepdaughters, Mrs. Mildred Hudson of Granite City, and Mrs. Mable Myrick of Visalia, Calif., it was reported this week.

NO PERMIT CHARGED

Talon Robert Douds, 18, of St. Petersburg, Fla., was arrested at 11:30 a.m. Monday at 27th and Benton streets, on a charge of soliciting without a permit. He told police his supervisors were to obtain a permit for him to sell magazines.

Music Spotlight on 2 Concertos, Unique Guitar Sound, New Albums

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

It takes unusual pianistic fortitude for a performer to play either Ravel's "Concerto in G" or Prokofiev's "Concerto No. 2." To take on both of them is a bit hard to believe.

Net Nicole Henriot-Schweitzer does so in a new RCA-Victrola recording of the two concertos with Charles Munch and the Boston Symphony.

And the Paris-born pianist carries it off with brilliance. The concertos demand not only extreme technical ability but tremendous physical endurance, especially Serge Prokofiev's huronies and rhythms still sound far ahead of his time, although the concerto first performed by the Second Piano Concerto on Sept. 5, 1913, in Pavlovsk, a suburb of St. Petersburg.

It is difficult music to listen to for the first time. The critic for the St. Petersburg "Gazette" found that.

He wrote of the 22-year-old composer: "Prokofiev sat at the piano, and began to dust the keys, or perhaps, try which keys sounded higher and which lower.

"The audience was puzzled. Some were indignant. His concerto concluded on a mercilessly dissonant combination of brass instruments."

Today's audiences, of course, are more accustomed to modern dissonances than were the people listening to Prokofiev play his concerti in Pavlovsk.

In fact, some find it harder to listen to the harmonic purity of the classicists.

Prokofiev once confessed that he was in part driven toward harmonic experiments by early criticism that his harmony was "elemental."

This led him to try a new harmonic language which later was transformed into a desire to find a medium for the expression of strong emotions.

Maurice Ravel's "Concerto in G," also featuring unusual tonal colors, but with a tightly controlled form came along much later—in 1925 when the concerto was given a debut by the Boston Symphony and the Philadelphia Orchestra, each playing in its own city.

This was at the height of the jazz surge in America—eight years after George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" elevated jazz to the concert hall.

And there are heavy overtones of the jazz idiom in Ravel's concerto, although the great French composer submerges them so much that total sound is a unique blend of sparkle and excitement.

It is really true that everyone in the world plays a guitar these days. Maybe. But how many play it like Los Indios Tabajaras?—the Brazilian Indian brothers who made the instrument the instrument. Hardly any.

You can sample the Indios sound in RCA's latest album, "Los Indios Tabajaras." Featured songs include "Softly, As A Morning Sunrise," "Over Miami," "Rio's Hills" and "Perfidia."

Arthur Lee has produced his first solo album following a career with Love. The album "Vindicator" is on the A&M label.

Hard rock is his bag and he puts himself into writing, playing and vocalizing with the conviction and energy of a locomotive.

His style is not unlike Jimi Hendrix. Rock fans will enjoy "Everybody's Gotta Live," "Sad Song," "Find Somebody," and "You Want Change For Your Re-Run."

And the Bach goes on. This time it's "Anthony Newman and Friends" with Bach's six Brandenburg concertos, a two-record set distributed by Columbia records.

They are so named because the music was commissioned by the Prussian king Christian Ludwig of Brandenburg, a patron of the arts.

A vast range of musical landscape covered by Bach is expressively recorded by Newman, on the harpsichord, and "Anthony Newman and Friends"—a mini-orchestra that would probably have matched the one used by Bach in his times.

This is Bach in all his moods, from the festivity of the hunt to the somberness of introspection. An added note: Columbia is to be applauded for having complete concertos on each side of each record—none of this annoying stopover of the finale to the other side of a record that brings groans from listeners.

(A) That the sewage treatment plant should be destroyed hereafter or damaged by disaster to such an extent that it cannot be repaired.

(B) That all funds received from insurance or otherwise available to the City should be used to pay the cost of the restoration of said sewage treatment plant, and that thereafter it can again be operated. The cost of such restoration shall be determined by a competent and disinterested engineer or engineering firm, or by the City, with the approval of the holders of 75% of the outstanding bonds, and the plan and specifications for the restoration shall be prepared for that purpose.

(C) That the holders of at least 75% of the outstanding amount of the bonds authorized by this Ordinance then outstanding shall give written consent to the issuance of additional bonds on a parity with the bonds authorized hereby and shall file a written consent with the Clerk of the City of Granite City, such consent to be acknowledged before a Notary Public and shall state the purpose of the issuance of additional bonds which may be issued.

Upon the occurrence of all of the circumstances above set out in this Subsection 11, additional bonds may be issued, regardless of the amount of revenue derived from the operation of the plant for the preceding fiscal year solely for the purpose of paying the cost of restoring the sewage treatment plant to its normal working order in an amount not greater than the amount of the bonds then outstanding and on a parity with the bonds then outstanding.

SECTION 18. That the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute a contract between the City of Granite City and the holders from time to time of the bonds and interest coupons herein authorized to be issued, and after the issuance of the bonds, no changes, additions, or alterations of any kind shall be made hereto, in any manner, except upon consent of the holder or holders of sixty-five per centum (65%) in principal amount of all of the bonds then outstanding; such consent shall be evidenced by an instrument or instruments of such holder or holders, duly acknowledged in the manner of a deed for the conveyance of real estate in the State of Illinois, and such instrument or instruments shall contain or be accompanied by proof of ownership of the bonds then outstanding, which consent is given, shall be filed in the office of the City Clerk of said City of Granite City, and shall be a public record; provided, however, that no such modification or alteration shall extend the maturity, reduce the interest rate on, or otherwise alter or impair the obligation to pay the principal of or the interest on any bond at the time and place at the rate and in the currency provided therein, without the express written consent of the holder of such bond, nor reduce the percentage of bonds required for the affirmative vote for or written consent to a modification or alteration, nor alter or impair the covenants set forth in Section 14, paragraphs (A), (B), (C), (D), and (E) of this ordinance. Any and all modifications or alterations made in the manner hereinabove provided shall not become effective until there shall have been filed with the said City Clerk proof of the consent to such modification or alteration by the holder or holders of sixty-five per centum (65%) in principal amount of all bonds then outstanding.

SECTION 19. That the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute a contract between the City of Granite City and the holders of the bonds authorized to be issued, and after the issuance of the bonds no changes, additions or alterations of any kind shall be made hereto in any manner except in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 20. That all bonds issued hereunder shall be payable as they mature equally and ratably, without regard to the date when said bonds actually shall be delivered, and shall enjoy parity of lien, on the one hand, with the revenues of said sewage treatment plant.

SECTION 21. That any holder of any bond then issued hereunder, either at law or in equity, by suit, mandamus or other proceedings may enforce and compel performance of all duties required by this ordinance, including the making of the collection of sufficient rates for that purpose and the application of the income and revenues of the sewerage treatment plant in accordance with this ordinance.

SECTION 22. When the bonds authorized hereby shall have been prepared and executed, they shall be lodged with the City Clerk, who shall deliver them to the purchaser hereupon payment of the purchase price of the bonds.

SECTION 23. The City hereby covenants that it will cause contracts to be let for the construction of the improvements contemplated by this ordinance, in the manner provided by law (except such minor portions of such work as the City Council may determine may be done most economically and effectively by the purchase of materials and the acquisition of labor by the City (under a contract). The City further covenants that performance bonds shall be required of all contractors having contracts for any work in excess of the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000). The City further covenants that all such contracts shall provide that payment shall not be made in excess of ninety per centum (90%) of the estimates, except upon the final acceptance and payment for the work done.

SECTION 24. That if any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph, clause or provision shall not affect any other provision of this ordinance.

SECTION 25. That this ordinance, within ten (10) days after its publication in the Granite City Press-Record, a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Granite City, Illinois, if no petition is filed with the Clerk said City at the last general municipal election preceding the passage of this ordinance, asking that the question of construction of certain provisions and extensions to its sewage treatment plant, as provided by this ordinance, and the question of the issuance of revenue bonds to pay the cost thereof, be submitted to the electors of said City (then in this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after expiration of said period of ten (10) days.

County Board Delays Sale of 2 Nike Bases

Attempts to have two Nike missile sites now owned by Madison County in Marine Township appraised for possible sale failed at the Madison County Board meeting Tuesday morning.

Jay Maurer of Venice, a board member, said that two companies are interested in purchasing all or part of the sites, and asked that funds be released for an appraiser to determine the true value of the properties.

He requested the question as to whether the sites should be used to store county young machines, Nelson Hagner, board chairman, asked that all county committees investigate possible use of the property before any action is taken to sell it.

Board members argued that if the property could be sold to a manufacturing firm, it not only would increase the county tax base, but also would provide more employment in the county.

J. R. Heil, board member, stated that funds raised from the sale of the property, and with $225,000 the county already has earmarked for construction of a building to store young machines, such a building finally could be constructed.

The public defeated a referendum on the building project in this year's primary election ballot.

Heil said that if the public was aware that the building could be constructed with funds from the sale of the Nike bases, it might approve a second referendum proposal.

Several members contended that the underground structures and the silos at the bases are suitable for storage of young machines while others said the facilities are too damp and that the machines would be ruined if stored there.

The issue was not resolved but may be considered further at the board's next meeting Oct. 16.

Fiegenbaum Resigns as County Plats Supervisor

Bruce O. Fiegenbaum, supervisor of the Madison County Plats Department, has resigned his position on that body.

The R. C. Scheffel Co. of Alton was retained as consultants to the board in preparing the 1972-73 county budget and the board approved a fee of $25 per hour for work by the company on the document.

Delmar Ward of Murphysboro was reappointed to a five-year term as executive trustee of the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

The board authorized a letter to be sent to John Guillou, chief engineer of the Illinois Division of Waterways, endorsing a proposed joint federal-state-local program for Doreby Slough drainage improvement.

A letter to President Nixon and to all U.S. senators and representatives who represent Madison County also was signed by most of the board members, urging support of the State and Local Assistance Act of 1972, which now is pending in the U.S. Senate.

Named to Commission
John Ubadi, secretary-treasurer of the Carpenters' District Council of Madison County and vice president of the local union, was appointed to replace Arthur F. Griffin on the Madison County Planning Commission. Griffin has retired from his position on that body.

Russians Wooing Pakistan

By RAY McHUGH
Copley News Service

London — While President Nixon is blessing for normalizing trade relations with the Soviet Union, Russia is driving hard for economic penetration in areas that once were strict U.S. and West European preserves.

Pakistan is a case in point. Hard pressed after the loss of Bangladesh in the December war with India, Pakistan now faces tough choices. It must decide if its military-economic future lies with Russia, Communist China or the United States.

Russia has leaped to win trade and credit offers that could open the avenue to the Indian Ocean and outflank oil-rich Iran.

Dararuy Minwalla's story of his search for capital to build a 100-room hotel in Karachi is a prime example.

Minwalla, managing director of the hotel, has been seeking $3.5 million. He has already contracted with Hyatt Hotels International to operate the hotel and provide management.

Loan Moratorium
He has secured a top priority rating for a $250 million loan from Export-Import Bank and approval of feasibility studies, but a moratorium has been placed on U.S. and World Bank loans to Pakistan.

Enter the Soviets
Russian officials have examined Minwalla's plans and have offered to finance the whole project on these terms:

1. Sixty per cent of all equipment is to be purchased in the USSR.

2. The remaining 40% of the money will be made available in hard cash.

3. Ten per cent of the hard currency is to be spent in Eastern Europe including Yugoslavia.

4. The loan is to be repaid at 6% over 14 years with a two-year grace period during construction.

5. Russia will accept 60% of the repayment over seven years in "bartered" rooms for Aeroflot flight crews that must overnight in Karachi and for Soviet engineers who are already building a huge steel complex nearby. (The room would be bartered at a rate of $18 a day.)

Attractive Offer
"It's a very attractive offer," says Minwalla, who also is negotiating in Western Europe. "Karachi needs 310 rooms right now to meet airline crew needs." The city is a turn-around point for airlines operating across Asia and across the Indian Ocean to East Africa.

The best offer the young Pakistani businessman has received in West Europe is 6.5%.

Hearings Open on Quality Of Ambulance Service

Springfield — Over the next several weeks, a state legislative sub-committee will hold a series of public hearings throughout the state to discover how the quality of ambulance service in downstate areas can be improved.

The Ambulance Study Subcommittee of the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission held its first in a series of eight hearings Tuesday in Springfield.

During this month and early October, hearings also will be held in Monmouth, Urbana, Rockford, Streator, Morrison, Marion and Greenville, according to State Rep. Louis Markert (D-Mount Sterling).

Among witnesses desired to be heard at the hearings are ambulance operators, local government officials, community leaders, state legislators and other concerned persons.

Committee Members
Members of the Sub-Committee besides Markert are Rep. Frank (Pat) North (R-Rockford), Sen. Robert McCarthy (D-Decatur), and Senator Donald D. Carpenter (R-East Moline).

Rep. Markert said: "We hope these hearings help us discover more about the growing crisis — especially downstate — caused by inadequate ambulance service to the public. Largely because of economic factors, many ambulance operators have either gone out of business or are seriously contemplating doing so."

"Yet for the health and safety of our citizens, it is vital that there be ambulance service for seven years. That came from a West German banking group."

The Russians, he says, have raised no objection to the American firm's building and management role.

"It demonstrates how far they are willing to go to get a state legislator," he said in an interview.

ice available when the need does arise.

"In some sparsely-populated areas, emergencies that require the use of ambulances occur so infrequently during the year; but when they do occur, good service is vitally needed. The lives and welfare of human beings are at stake."

"Hopefully, the hearings will be a prelude to positive legislative action next January aimed at helping locate first solutions to the ambulance crisis plaguing areas of Illinois."

"For the convenience of those wishing to attend the hearings, we have tried to scatter them on a geographical basis so that any citizen in any section of the state will have to travel only a minimal distance in order to participate."

Parked Car 'Creased'

A minor accident on the parking lot at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Edison Avenue, reported at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday, involved an auto operated by Carl T. Heaton, 2418 Iowa St., and a parked car owned by Robert G. Nelson of Belleville.

Police said Heaton "creased" the side of the Nelson vehicle and left the scene, unaware a collision had occurred until notified later.

Blue and Gold Blend With an Oriental Rug

By BARBARA HARTUNG
Copley News Service

Q. I am planning to convert a bedroom into a study (we also have a family room) to house three gorgeous antiques which were my husband's grandmother's.

They are a matching rosewood loveseat, side chair and armchair.

They are presently at the upholsterer's being recovered in an imported powder blue fabric with pale gold embroidered stripe and very delicate flowers in pale lilac and green.

I purchased a desk of Italian provincial design with a black top. Would an Oriental-type rug be too busy for this room in the pale blue tones?

A. The rug would be large enough to go under the furniture or be an area rug in the center of the floor.

Also, in the same room I would like to use an etagere. I found one I like in wrought iron finished in an antique dark gold with amber glass shelves and a bottom shelf of cane.

What is your opinion of this etagere?

A. I would think an Oriental-type rug would be so right for the room on the pale blue and gold tones.

I think you can be guided by your preferences in rug size to use either room size or area size.

If your floors are particularly nice, an area size might look well.

Remember, though, that if you are moving your desk chair back and forth, it is a nuisance to keep running into the edge of the rug.

Mrs. Sandy (Noeth) Innes of Granite City, wife of Lt. (jg) Roger B. Innes, U.S. Navy, who has been missing in action in Vietnam since December 1967, has been selected an Outstanding Young Woman of America for 1972. It was announced today by the Phi Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Innes was nominated by the organization earlier this year on the basis of her achievements.

Now in its eighth year, the Outstanding Young Women program recognizes young women between the ages of 21 and 35 for contributions to the betterment of their communities, professions and country.

According to the director of the national awards program, three other young women from the Granite City area have been chosen for Outstanding Young Woman honor and will appear in the annual biographical compilation.

Others named are Helen Dean Moorman, 22, Hanson Drive, Margaret Holstad Parnell, 208, Twenty-seventh St., and Harriette Brown Stover, who present address is listed in Garland, Tex.

More than 6,000 young women are nominated annually as Outstanding Young Women of America by civic organizations, churches and college alumni associations throughout the country.

Complete biographical sketches of all nominees are featured in the annual awards publication, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

The women included in the 1972 edition are now in competition for further state and national awards. This fall, 50 of the young women included in the publication—one from each state—will be named as their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year.

10 National Winners

From the 50 state winners, the national Ten Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972 will be selected. Miss Anita Capp, program director, advised.

The program was conceived and is guided today by leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. Serving on the program's board of advisors are the national presidents of women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Ois Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In November, the 1972 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America will be published. The volume, to be distributed nationally as a reference publication, will include special introductory messages by U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Amy Vanderbilt, the country's leading etiquette authority.

Tension Between Walker, Those Covering Campaign

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield — Regardless of the eventual decision at the polls, Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has outscored his Democratic opponent, Daniel Walker, in one round of the campaign bout.

Press relations. Walker has developed a credibility gap of broad proportions with most of the state's experienced government-political reporters and it is likely to increase.

Democratic candidates at any level of the political ladder can generally expect friendlier treatment from working newspapermen than their Republican counterparts.

But this is not the case with Walker and Ogilvie.

The governor's press operation has come in for frequent criticism during his more than three years in the Statehouse, but it's been more a matter of functioning rather than personalities. There has been some incredible bumbling along the way.

But with Walker and the press it's more of a personal thing. Most Walker press conferences — especially those at the Statehouse, where reporters knowledgeable in the working of state government dominate — are increasingly marked by a feeling of tension if not hostility.

Walker likes to talk in general.

HUSBAND To bring his lovely wife to:

REWARD
HER WITH A DELICIOUS MEAL

alities. Reporters try to pin him down to specifics. He makes frequent mistakes in facts.

The Walker-press relationship deteriorated markedly at his latest Capitol news conference.

Walker opened by stating he plans to concentrate in the final weeks of the campaign on exposing what he terms "mismanagement" by Ogilvie of various state agencies.

He irritated newsmen by commenting that "I will also carry this campaign to my opponent, for he and his band of 84 press agents have dazzled a handful of ordinarily reliable interpreters of state government."

Reporters quickly asked what specific matters of mismanagement he was referring to, that the reporters presumably had missed.

Walker then proceeded to tick off four or more situations, but in each instance acknowledged that his information came from stories in Chicago and Springfield newspapers.

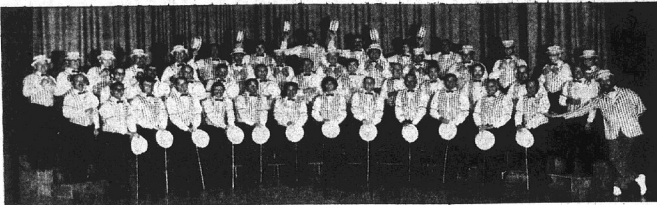

In citing "add-ons" abuses in the handling of Statehouse construction and remodeling contracts, he credited the State Register in Springfield with disclosing the situation, while in fact it was a detailed series by State Journal reporter Bob Estill which led to passage of the corrective legislation by the legislature and its signing into law by Ogilvie.

Walker's free-wheeling style of campaigning has inevitably tripped him up on factual matters.

If the credibility issue with the press should expand to affect individual voters, his current lead could be in jeopardy.

Ogilvie, although far from a "political personality," may be gaining some grassroots support as sincere if decidedly underdog candidate.

BARBERSHOPPERS IN COMPETITION. The Mississippi Valley Barbershop Chorus will enter the St. Louis Area Barbershop contest Saturday at Webster Groves, Mo. The contest is sponsored by the St. Louis Area Barbershop Council, composed of members of the nine St. Louis area chapters. The chorus, under the direction of George Holtzner, will compete against eight other area chapters in the fourth competition for the Mississippi Valley chorus since it was formed in 1969. The chorus has performed at the Music Under the Stars program sponsored by the Granite City Park District the past four years. The chapter includes members from Collinsville, Granite City and other surrounding communities. All men who like to sing are invited to attend weekly meetings each Monday at 8 p.m. at the Collinsville Building and Loan office. In addition to the chorus, the Federal Reserve Notes, a local quartet also competes. Members of the quartet include Dennis McCann and Richard Pilch of Granite City, and George Bagot and Eldred Mueller.

Hints to Remove Stains In Washable Garments

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Advisor-Home Economics

You can usually remove perspiration stains from washable garments if you treat the fabric properly and act quickly.

Here are some helpful hints from Marjorie Sohn, University of Illinois Extension clothing specialist.

For fresh stains in a garment, first rinse or sponge the stained area with warm water. Then apply a weak solution of ammonia water (one-fourth cup ammonia and two one-half cups water) to the stain. Rinse and launder the garment.

Miss Sohn points out that older stains turn from acid to alkaline. For such stains, rinse first with warm water. Apply lemon juice or white vinegar followed by another clear water rinse; then launder.

Miss Sohn emphasizes that perspiration may change the color of fabrics. Although the treatment recommended should remove the stain, they will not always restore the color. White fabrics, however, can often be restored by using a bottle bleach or bleaching the fabric in the sun.

For stains in nonwashable garments, consult your dry cleaner.

CHILDREN'S FALL FASHIONS. Mixing and matching an attractive, easy-care, back-to-school wardrobe for your child gets easier every year. Durable, washable fabrics in comfortable, practical styles are the reason.

Children's clothes for fall feature a casual, classic look with plaids being a major element of the bright-colored fabrics. Textures also play an important role adding depth and richness through pile and brushed surfaces.

Girls' wear features knit dresses, smock frocks, shirt dresses and jumpers. Skirts this year are mostly knee length or to the floor in flared or pleated variations. Turned-up cuffs, flares and modified bellows are the style for pants.

Tops, twin sweaters and the increasingly popular body suit are available in bright colors and many styles. You can combine items in a variety of ways to provide endless changes in the "layered look."

For boys, jeans styles are still most popular, but the fabrics are changing. In addition to the ever-popular denim and corduroy, knits and stretch wovens are making inroads because of their sleek appearance, comfort and shape retention. Solid-colored pants complement bright-colored, highly patterned shirts and sweaters. The knit sport dresses and jumpers. Skirts this

Mortgage Burning Marks Madison Church Service

More than 250 parishioners and guests viewed a symbolic mortgage burning ceremony of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison and attended a banquet marking the occasion at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., early this week.

The events were preceded by groundbreaking ceremonies for a new parish home adjacent to the church building at 416 Spring Ave., Madison, and a Pontifical Divine Liturgy celebrated by Metropolitan Ireney, Primate of the Orthodox Church in America.

Concelebrants at the services were the Most Rev. John, Archbishop of Chicago and Minneapolis; the Most Rev. Theodosius, Bishop of Pittsburgh and West Virginia; Rt. Rev. John Tichney, Dean of the St. Louis Diocese; and the Rev. Vladimir Lecko, pastor of the Madison church.

His Beatitude Metropolitan Ireney officiated at the groundbreaking, turning over the first spadeful of ground, with each member of the visiting hierarchy performing a similar function.

Among the guests were Cong. Melvin Price, (D - East St. Louis), Illinois Lt. Gov. Paul Simon of Troy, State Senator

Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), Mayor Mike Sanyk of Madison and Mayor John E. Lee of Venice.

The Rev. Lecko and George Butchko Jr. were general co-chairmen of the weekend activities, which also included a tea, an hierarchical procession and entertainment.
